Rev. Arthur H. Simpson, Noted Minister, Dies

Pottstown lost one of its strongest leaders and most beloved ministers Thursday morning.

The Rev. Arthur H. Simpson, 91-year-old pastor emeritus of the First United Presbyterian church, died at his Park court home at 5:30 a. m. Thursday.

The minister had been in failing health the last four months and recently had suffered a third heart attack in as many years.

A sincere but outspoken religious and social leader who based his life and his teaching on the Bible, the Rev. Simpson earned the respect and love of thousands with whom he came in contact during the 45 years of his life spent in Pottstown.

In an act that was typical of the understanding and insight he had in life, the Rev. Simpson prepared his own obituary for The Mercury. It was a factual account of the years of his life and was prepared by him a year before he died. The account was given to his wife to give to The Mercury when he died.

HE ASSUMED the pastorate of the Presbyterian church in 1915 and continued until 1939 when he retired. The 24 years were the longest pastorate in the 112 year history of the church which has had 11 pastors and he was elected pastor emeritus upon retirement.

See Editorial, "A Great Preacher Passes," on Page 4.

The 21 years of his retirement were spent in meditation and Bible study, in delivering occasional sermons as a guest minister, and in pursuing favorite pastimes in oil painting and working with plants and flowers that he loved.

His retirement was shared with his wife, Elsie (Mowrey) Reiff Simpson, who survives him. The pastor outlived his first wife and both of their children, Kenneth, who died two years ago, and Hildegard, who died in 1950. Kenneth was a radiological technician for the government for many years.

The Rev. Simpson was a man with "a wonderful outlook on life," according to one who knew him well, the Rev. George A. Lineker, pastor of Christ Episcopal church.

"I always pictured him as something of a dean of clergymen, with his experience and age, and the beauty of his nature," the Rev. Lineker said. "He had a very human and profound approach to religion, not just philosophical."

"He was completely indoctrinated with his faith, and you felt this when he came into your presence."

A TALL, white-haired man with a ready smile and keen sense of humor, the Rev. Simpson counted children among the chief joys of his life.

Mrs. Simpson recalled, "He loved children very much, and he made friends with them very easily." He was noted for writing many letters to the children of his church, advising them with humor and charm.

A love of nature, revealed in a number of his paintings, also prompted a number of trips with his children across the United States, to California. The trips were taken in a touring car and the minister and youngsters camped out overnight. Hiking was a favorite pastime.

He organized a Boy Scout troop in the church shortly after coming here and for years was active in Scouting. Later he was bird study merit badge counselor for the troop. "He was very interested in that type of work," said Frederick W. Calleen, scoutmaster of the troop. "The boys had all the co-operation they could ask for from a pastor."

THE REV. Simpson's community service included several years as chairman of the Red Cross chapter in Pottstown and he was a president and a secretary of the Ministerial association.

Twice he was delegate of the Philadelphia presbytery to the national Presbyterian General assembly, and in 1933 he was elected moderator of the presbytery.

The pastor has written three booklets and they have been published in the United States both in print and in braille. The booklets on the Bible and on the pastor's philosophy and theology also have been printed in German and circulated throughout that land where there was considerable demand for them. "He was very proud of that," Mrs. Simpson said.

During his pastorate of 24 years, church membership rose from 276 to 427 and the budget rose from $4900 per year to

"Ye Castle, Cheerio".

That is the sign above the doorway in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Stouffer, 972 North Charlotte street. But, also, it is a family's testimonial of its love for what they know was "a sincere and devoted man."

The sign honors the Rev. Arthur H. Simpson who died Thursday morning.

Stouffer said the sign bears the name the Rev. Simpson gave the home many years ago. A non-literal translation of the title is "the castle of cheer."

POLICE GROUP TO FIGHT FOR GUADAGNO

Fraternal Order Will Continue Case

TWO APPLICANTS LISTED FOR POST

The Fraternal Order of Police still is fighting to reinstate James V. Guadagno.

Guadagno more than a month ago was fired as police chief in West Pottsgrove. He repeatedly asked for a hearing on the dismissal, renewing that request Wednesday night.

Township commissioners noted that any hearing for "Big Jim" must follow answers to their charges of neglect of duty. Those answers never came and the deadline for refuting charges allegedly is past.

But Joseph A. Reilly, attorney for the Fraternal Order of Police, Thursday declared, "Guadagno has my full backing and my efforts to get him justice continue."

Reilly added, "Two or three legal channels are open for me to continue this case. But first, I'm going to delve into the matter more thoroughly."

AS FOR passing the alleged deadline, Reilly said "that deadline strictly is for the courts to draw. I hope we get a hearing

Okayed for Driving

A new State law requires a physical examination before a learner's permit can be issued. So Patricia Lasky, 466 Spruce street, sees her family physician, Dr. John Anthony, 1133 High street. The law was designed to make sure that people who are competent to drive are also physically able to do so. The law went into effect for the first time in Pottstown Thursday.

Future Driver Takes Steps To Obtain Coveted License

Patricia Lasky is a pert 16 year old junior at Pottstown High school who started working on the most immediate goal in her young life — getting a driver's license.

Miss Lasky, of 466 Spruce street, was one of five area residents who appeared at the examination station at North Hanover and Diamond streets Thursday.

For Miss Lasky it was the third step under a new law which requires a physical examination before a learner's permit can be issued.

The new process for fledgling drivers is a cumbersome one that safety officials hope will limit licenses to those who are not only competent to drive, but physically able to do so.

Her first stop in the ten-step process occurred last Friday when she picked up a pink application form about the size of a check from the Pottstown Auto club.

The second step called for typing or printing her name, age, etc., on the back of the card and waiting for the examination station to open Thursday.

The station, manned by State troopers from the Belmont barracks, is open only on Thursdays.

Miss Lasky arrived at the small grey building used as headquarters shortly after school let out, the precious pink slip safely tucked in her pocketbook.

Cpl. A. T. Barron greeted her with a smile, checking to see that the back was correctly filled in.

Seated at an eye-testing machine, Miss Lasky breezed through the test, winking . . . blinking . . . covering the right eye . . . and the left one without trouble.

CPL. BARRON checked off his one-third of the card on the front side, and explained the rest of the steps.

"But it'll take me months to go through all that," Miss Lasky wailed. "I'll be an old maid before I get my license."

Cpl. Barron laughed.

The next step called for a medical examination, so Miss Lasky, her smile beginning to return, trotted over to the offices of Dr. John Anthony, 1133 High street.

Dr. Anthony gave her a

FIRE CODE DRAFTS ARE REQUESTED

Borough Committee Asks Companies' Opinions

Borough manager Robert H. McKinney Jr., and the chiefs of Pottstown's fire companies were asked to draw up separate drafts of a fire code at Thursday night's meeting of the borough fire committee.

The resolution was passed after a short discussion in which McKinney pointed out that the code is "the ultimate responsibility of the committee."

"Let them (the fire chiefs) advise us," McKinney noted, "but we want to be careful about letting them write their own code."

"This should be handled through the fire committee itself," Sixth ward councilman Walter A. Bolton, chairman of the committee, noted.

THE SUGGESTION that separate drafts be drawn up as a "nucleus to work from," was offered by Eighth ward councilman Wilbert F. O'Dell.

The committee also voted to

BOY FOUND UNCONSCIOUS IN CEMETERY

Youth Was Struck By Football At School

A 13 year old boy who complained of severe headaches after being hit in the head with a football at school Tuesday morning, was found unconscious in Pottstown West End cemetery shortly after 4 p. m. Thursday.

The youth, Harvey Wade, of 1 West Fourth street, was discovered crumbled next to a tombstone by an unidentified neighbor, and rushed to Pottstown hospital in a Goodwill ambulance.

Wade's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Frey, with whom he and his brother Earl live, said that her grandson began complaining of severe headaches when he returned from school Wednesday.

She said he was unable to eat dinner, and went to bed early, complaining of "a blinding headache." Mrs. Frey said he told her that he had been hit in the head with a football during recess at Franklin school.

BY MORNING the headache had abated and Wade attended school.

The next thing she knew was when police called her and asked her to come to the hospital, she reported.

By the time she arrived, the youth had regained consciousness, and was admitted for observation. His condition was reported satisfactory.

Citizens Quiz Sewer Panel On North Coventry Setup

By BEN TEPLITZ
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Two members of the North Coventry sewer authority will escape frontage fees in their big project.

The men are A. Erwin Colver, authority president, and Stauffer Kutz. Three other members will be levied a $6.90 for each foot of pipelines.

That fact was disclosed Thursday at a public gathering of taxpayers in the North Coventry school.

William Scherfel Sr., 1164 East Schuylkill road, declared, "Mr. Colver you are a friend of mine and a neighbor to boot. But I have to pay a steep assessment fee, while you have a frontage of 300 feet and won't have to pay a dime. That isn't fair."

AFTER THE MEETING, Kutz acknowledged that he, too, won't be ticketed for assessments. The route of sewerlines skirts his property and Colver's.

Sixty-five persons attended the meeting. One man in the

DRIVER FACES INDEFINITE SUSPENSION

30 Other Motorists Face Varying Penalties

Robert Roth, 41 Boone Court, Penn Village, had his driver's license suspended indefinitely by the State bureau of highway safety.

Roth, a young father of five children, made headlines last March when he was arrested and charged with a string of burglaries.

The seven thefts were in an area from Landis Store to Pikeville and totaled over $1000. Roth's driving license was suspended for lack of security.

Thirty other motorists in this area were penalized by the State bureau of highway safety during the last week of May. Those persons and their violations are: Paul D. Bauman, Gilbertsville RD 1, speeding; Fred Bentley, 35 East Fourth street, speeding; Doris Brunnel, 423 Buttonwood avenue, security required;

House Committee Recommends Bill Forbidding Cancer Producing Colors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food, cosmetic and drug colors that can produce cancer in test animals would be forbidden for human use under a bill recommended Thursday by the House Commerce Committee.

The committee sided with Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming and voted against a proposal to permit the use of challenged colors even in a limited amount.

Some color industry representatives have argued it would be wrong to put a complete ban on a color when scientists find it probably would cause no harm in small amounts.

Flemming testified last month that it is impossible to say how much of a color additive which creates a cancer in laboratory rats can be given without causing the disease in a human body.

However, Flemming was described as agreeable to this procedure: When a manufacturer believes a color he supplies has been wrongly classified as cancer-inducing, he could appeal to the Welfare Department secretary. The secretary could appoint a scientific commission to review the case.

The cosmetics section of the bill would forbid the makers of lipsticks to use any color classed as cancer-producing.

However, it would permit them to use limited quantities of coal tar colors the government now classifies as potential causes of diseases other than cancer. A table of permissible tolerances would be authorized, based on how much would be harmless.

In lengthy lipstick hearings conducted by the Food and Drug Administration last winter, lipstick makers contended that the amounts of lipstick a woman may swallow could never make her sick.

The government agency said lab tests showed the disputed colors were harmful to rats and could harm humans if taken in large enough amounts.

Test Pilot Faces Dilemma In New X15 Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The first flight of an X15 with the powerful new rocket engine designed to carry it to the edge of space is scheduled for the middle of June.

Test pilot Scott Crossfield will be in the cockpit—and on the horns of a dilemma: How can he find out what the new engine will do, and still not violate a contract which limits the speed and altitude to which he can take the plane?

The answer is: He probably can't.

But if his violation is merely "inadvertent," says a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, he'll still have a job when he comes down.

Crossfield's dilemma was created by a contract his employers, North American Aviation, have with NASA. The contract says the X15 may not be flown above 100,000 feet or more than twice the speed of sound before delivery to NASA and the Air Force.

NASA officials say these restrictions were imposed to insure a step-by-step test program, with no chance that the plane might be destroyed through some pilot's eagerness to set new records.

Up to now, the X15s Crossfield has flown have been powered by an engine developing 16,000 pounds of thrust.

The big engine he will test about June 15 develops 60,000 pounds of thrust—almost half the power of a Thor intermediate-range ballistic missile. It can be throttled back to 30,000 pounds—but this is still almost twice the power of the small engine.

With the big engine at full throttle for its full four minutes of burning time, the X15 is expected to go 4,000 miles an hour and at least 50 miles high.

You can't hold a man down without staying down with him.—(Booker T. Washington)

A Great Preacher Passes

THE Rev. Arthur H. Simpson, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church, passed away yesterday. He was 91.

When a revered man lives to so ripe an age, newspaper editors frequently are inclined to assign reporters to get stories on HOW he lived so long. In the case of the Rev. Simpson, it would be well to say WHY he lived so long.

The Rev. Simpson lived on this earth so long in order to teach the story of brotherhood. He was more than a minister of the gospel. He was a crusader against bigotry, a campaigner for brotherly love.

He often said he believed ministers and editors had a lot in common. He said ministers had to have the courage to say the truth, to crusade as crusading newspaper editors did.

Like crusading newspapermen, he spoke out continuously for freedom, for whatever measures were best adapted to defending the rights and liberties of the people and advancing useful knowledge.

He saw a relation in newspapering to missionary journalism, for it included a healthy respect for the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount, a regard for the oneness of God as the Father of all human beings.

This quality flattered newspapermen. But his people knew him as a man of many other facets. A great preacher, a sound psychologist, an impressive author, a sympathetic friend.

The Rev. Simpson once bristled when a Shakespearian actor asserted "No minister knew how to read the Bible properly."

But when he reflected that so many read Bible passages with a monotonous chant, he gave the indictment more thought. He resolved to perfect his delivery of Bible passages to bring out the full beauty of the word of God.

He was noted for his ability in this respect.

Just a year ago, after he had suffered several heart attacks and was confined to his home, he disregarded his own health and insisted on visiting a sick friend in the Pottstown hospital.

There he brought up the Shakespeare simile again. He said his favorite Biblical story was the prodigal son. He said he could deliver it with more emphasis than any actor ever gave Shakespeare.

His more than six feet towered over the bedside. His tousled white head shook with emphasis as he spoke:

"A certain man had two sons. And the younger of them said to his father, Father give me the portion of goods that falleth to me".....

He pleaded the case of the son. Deftly he wove the tale from St. Luke, of the prodigal who finally was reduced to feeding swine. The repulsiveness of the chore was reflected in the strong lines of the minister's face.

"Father, I have sinned against heaven," he continued....."bring forth the fatted calf...let us eat and be merry", and thus down to the end.

The minister's face shone as he finished. Then he quietly said: "Let us pray."

The Rev. Simpson was one of the most revered men in the community. He walked with the high and with the low. He was greatly admired and respected by his fellow clergymen in the Ministerial association.

It would be begging the word to say his parishioners loved him. Their regard was more deep-seated.

For 24 years he served the First Presbyterian church here before he was made pastor emeritus. Then he frequently filled in as a supply pastor. He was in great demand throughout the area as a "vacation" preacher.

The Rev. Simpson was called away after 62 years in the ministry. He walked close to God, but never lost his touch with the common folks.

Backward

SOME time ago Joel Barlow, an authority on tax matters, testified before a Senate committee on US tax policy as it affects the depreciation of industry's machinery and other facilities.

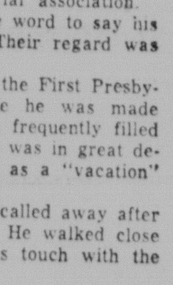

He said: "The United States is the most backward of the leading industrial nations in tax depreciation policy. Now while other nations forge ahead, and Russia is investing in capital goods at an astounding rate, we are operating under a depreciation system more than a quarter of a century old, a system that has a profound deterrent effect on capital investment, and is particularly hard on taxpayers with restricted access to outside capital."

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where fissures have begun to appear in the rocky American section of Niagara Falls. The big splash has been around for a long, long time — so it's no wonder if it's beginning to crack up.

Temperature changes are causing the Niagara fissures. Like everything else, they're blaming even this on the weather!

And say: Speaking of weather, statistics show Nevada is the driest state in the Union. This doesn't necessarily mean the Las Vegas area.

Hopin' you air the same,

Other Fellow Gets Hurt by Alcohol

Drunken Drivers' Toll

To the Editor: About one ounce of alcohol in a driver's body increases his chance of being involved in an auto accident by more than 1000 percent.

If alcohol could be divorced from driving, possibly half of our 40,000 doomed to die each year on the highways could live and half a million more could be spared from painful and crippling injuries.

The record of alcohol as a cause of accidents in other respects and as a destroyer of property is equally tragic.

If those who drink imposed penalties only upon themselves it would be no concern of government, but when the loss of life and health and crippling accidents fall more heavily upon the families of those who drink and upon this innocent victims and the taxpayers who have to bear the burden, it becomes a matter of general concern.

Thoughtful Americans will continue to study this problem in the hope of finding a way to deal effectively with it.

Wrong to Have Brains?

To the Editor: The purpose of our public school system, and the sole reason for its existence, is to educate the people, and through this education to prepare them for a richer, both financially and intellectually, life.

Somewhere along the long road to education the system has failed.

Students today, particularly in the public schools, are ashamed of having intellectual prowess. Much bragging is heard on the star athlete, or the best dancer and social butterfiles.

Spending Won't Bring Boom

To the Editor: Walter P. Reuther is calling for a "bold, dynamic program" by which he means more Federal spending, lower interest rates, tax revision, higher wages and other measures to increase mass purchasing power.

Government already spends about 41 cents out of every dollar all of us earn.

How much more of our wealth does Reuther think government ought to seize? Does he believe government can spend it more wisely than we ourselves?

What leads him to believe that when the government spends money, more employment is furnished than when we the people spend our own money?

If govenment spends more, we spend less and since government spending is wasteful, it supplies less employment than if the people spend their own money.

If Reuther is talking about increasing spending beyond the total national income, he is advocating more deficits and a further increase in the national debt with the inevitable result of more inflation. The dollar is now worth 47 cents in comparison with what it was 20 years ago. Evidently Reuther thinks that is too much, that its value ought to be driven down to let us say 40 cents or below.

The labor chief wants higher wages to increase mass purchasing power. If everybody's wages are increased in proportion, that drives everybody's prices up and does not increase purchasing power for anyone.

If Reuther wants increases just for some of the people and not for others, he is proposing special privileges for this group that will enable it to take wealth from the rest of the population.

In other words, it is coveting and stealing. It is robbing Peter to pay Paul.

That practice has destroyed every society that has resorted to it and it will destroy our country if we continue following it. That is precisely why John Adams said:

"There never was a democracy that did not commit suicide."

Keep Responsibility

To the Editor: There is still a loud and persistent clamor to turn over more and more responsibilities to Uncle Sam. This embraces not only welfare but medicine and education.

One cannot rule out the value of coordinating effort in many fields on the national level.

But let us make certain that we, the private citizens, do not abandon our continuing responsibility and place it in the hands of bureaucrats.

Those who are concerned about Soviet Russia's progress in certain fields ought to keep in mind that they not only stole our atomic secrets but several of our effective industrial methods—methods that evolved from the American free enterprise system, not the bureaucrats.

Miss Midnight's Notebook

POLITICAL DEBATES are apt to be waged hot and heavy when contemporaries attempt to correct some of Harry Truman's alleged "historical errors" in his forthcoming book.

For example, the former President says, "I had great expectations for Gov. Stevenson. When I first sent for him in 1951 and we met at Blair House, I offered to support him as a candidate for the Presidency. Stevenson was making a fine record as Governor of Illinois, after waging and winning by a majority of more than half a million."

This quote will stagger friends of the late David K. Niles, who often confided to his intimates that he spent more than a year persuading President Truman to meet with Stevenson.

ANOTHER DILLY that will raise eyebrows: "At that time we had no idea that the Republicans would nominate a soldier who was a war hero. We thought that the Republicans would nominate Sen. Taft or some other conservative, and that it would not be difficult to elect a new Democratic figure for President. Therefore I was disheartened by Stevenson's reluctant attitude."

No mention is made of President Truman's attempt—before he saw Gov. Stevenson—to persuade that "soldier who was a war hero" to run as the Democratic candidate.

A well-known Washington lawyer was sent to Europe to ask Gen Dwight D. Eisenhower to accept the Democratic nomination, but he turned it down flatly.

Publication of the book is bound to make front page news, judging from the ire of one expert who is irate over what he terms "distortions of history."

Funny quote from Suzy Parker in London: "I won't marry again for a long time. But if I do, it'll have to be with a man who can mold me—like putty." (Suzy, honey, I can think of a lot of volunteer sculptors).

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

WHEN DANNY was 7½, I made the following observation.

During the Summer months, we would live at our Summer home on the farm in Indiana.

When we first bought the farm, we couldn't get occupancy of the farmhouse until the following year. But we wanted an immediate place to live.

So we located an obsolete railroad passenger car, which used to be a buffet and club car. It was all mahogany lined and rather attractive, especially after Mrs. Crane had fixed it up.

Then we bought a refrigerator freight car, which we set at right angles to the passenger car, and which we used as a bunk house.

ALTHOUGH OUR five youngsters were near enough in age to be playmates, the younger ones still liked bedfellows in the form of dolls or stuffed monkeys, teddy bears and the like.

When I went to bed in the bunk house, I noticed that David had Raggedy Ann tucked under the covers beside him, while Danny had Raggedy Andy.

Danny usually was the first child to awaken in the morning. I noticed him arise, lean over the side of his bed and carefully tuck Raggedy Andy into a cardboard box under his cot. Then he placed the lid on the box and hopped out of bed.

He neatly made his bed and then slipped out of the bunk house without waking the others.

I had often played possum while observing this typical morning ritual. When David later awakened he also placed his Raggedy Ann in her box under his cot.

CHILDREN NOT only enjoy live pets, such as puppies or kittens, but they relish having toy pets, like wooly lambs, monkeys or dolls.

Many a child who is afraid of the dark, will also be much more relaxed if you give him a toy doll or pet as his bedfellow.

The children seem to look upon the latter as company and a good substitute for an adult parent in the room.

As they focus attention on the needs of their toy pet, they thereby forget self and are also more inclined to keep their hands occupied with the latter.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: "The Wrangler" promises to be something new and different in the way of Westerns, a song we've all heard before but which has such a haunting melody that it's difficult not to listen to it again.

"The Wrangler" is a 13-episode half-hour series out of Paramount (the studio's first sale, incidentally) which has been scheduled to serve as Tennessee Ernie Ford's Summer replacement.

It is new and different right off the bat in that it will be taped rather than filmed; which is to say, it will be played pretty much as a live show with all the action covered by four TV cameras rather than one movie camera. This makes it TV's first all-taped Western, which I suppose is some sort of a distinction.

The lead in this new series is being played by a New York actor named Jason Evers, who was Herb Evers (or was it Herb Janson,) before he came to Hollywood to play a cowboy. Anyway, he is now Janson Evers.

IN "THE WRANGLER" he plays Pitcairn, a loner with a collection of attributes picked up, presumably, from one TV Western hero or another. Like Dick Boone's Paladin, he is a well-educated man given to reading Latin now and again. Like "Man Without a Gun", he doesn't carry a gun.

He does carry a carbine in a saddle holster, but there is no six-shooter hanging low over his hip. Like "Maverick" (either Maverick), he has a subtle sense of humor which he is not averse to using to his own advantage.

In the first episode he conveys the impression that he is an itinerant preacher (circuit rider, as they called them) and cons the villain into grooming his horse for him. And, in something of a throwback to Roy Rogers, he has a horse named Sam to which he talks at great lengths. I am happy and relieved to be able to report that the horse doesn't talk back.

PITCAIRN IS well able to take care of himself. He wanders about the West doing odd jobs here and there, gets into trouble, solves other people's problems. Sometimes he has a pocketfull of money, sometimes he is flat broke.

While I haven't seen the pilot episode, the script is sitting here on my desk. It is a good script—literate, intelligent, full of both conflict and humor.

There is the usual touch of violence. Pitcairn besting the villian in a fight by slapping a hot branding iron on the man's hand. Later, however, he apologizes. "It was all I had time for," he says, having been in a hurry to stop another villian from getting away. The villain turns out to be a right guy after all ("I was wrong about a lot of things. I'm saying I'm sorry") and even gets the girl.

Yes, there is a girl. Ilke Hedy Lamarr, she goes swimming in the old water hole and gets caught at it.

I think I'm going to like "The Wrangler". I hope so. Westerns have been getting tiresome of late and this one seems to have a flavor all its own.

Interpreting The News

Berlin Situation Is Seen Forlorn

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP News Analyst

The summit conference explosion in Paris has left the world's political leaders facing a curious state of affairs with regard to divided Germany and Berlin.

The situation, at the moment, is forlorn—but not critical.

In Berlin, an isolated cockpit of cold war, Western sources say the outlook for a solution through top-level negotiations is out unless the Western Allies are prepared eventually to quit the city.

But the situation is not immediately critical because the Soviets apparently have chosen to mark time for a while, purportedly on the assumption that there will be another try at a summit meeting. The Soviets give many indications that they are thinking of squeezing the West out of Berlin gradually, perhaps over a period of five or more years.

* * *

"If the West gives in on any point at all in the Berlin argument, it may be buying peace for a little while," one highly placed Westerner said. "But there can be no question but that, with each concession made by the West, there will be more heat from the Communists. To us here, this means the West cannot and must not give an inch."

A West Berliner said a "series of blunders and unpredictable actions on both sides" led to the Paris fiasco.

"Who knows who has reaped the most good from the blowup?" he asked. "Already many Berliners are saying the Paris events were the best thing which could have happened for West Berlin and West Germany. At least nothing has been bargained away."

Can Berlin go on indefinitely as it is? Is there a way out?

"We are accused," the Berliner replied, "of dull repetition when we say the way out is free elections. The clever Londoner, for example, says 'You have said that for years—why not a new, creative idea?' we ask, 'Have you a creative idea?' And there is no reply."

Can the Western Allies do any more than they are doing?

"The West," he said, "must find some way to take the initiative, at least in propaganda. We spend most of our time denying lies. While East Germany was harshly collectivizing farmers, they put out propaganda that we are seizing West German farms. We just denied it. While they build top-heavy military and paramilitary forces, they accuse us of militarism. We simply deny it.

"While refugees stream from the East, they pretend the flow is in the other direction. And some self-appointed peacemakers in the West say they see no difference in the two situations. The Communists take over words like 'democracy' and 'peace' and 'people,' so when one uses them here, it somehow seems suspect. Can you honestly say the West has been imaginative?"

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

No Writing Chore... Freshman Quartet...

★ DEMISE — Time was, at this time of year, when a bunch of schoolmen had to stay after school to do some writing on the board. Not that these boys were unruly, but they had to sign the several hundred diplomas. It was quite a chore. But those days are gone forever Today the Pottstown High school diplomas (and possibly others) have the officials' names printed right on them. So when the seniors admire the penmanship of Superintendent Havard Fosnocht, Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr., School Board President H. Bert Shaw, and School District Secretary Linford F. Moyer, they'll be admiring printer's ink, not Waterman's! Seems like a sheepskin is not a sheepskin, the signatures are imprinted and, ah, well! times do change. There's no dog in dog biscuit, either.

START — A little over 25 years ago, a group of men looking forward to the future of Pottstown and its recreation facilities, formed the Kenilworth Playground association. Of that group of six only two are alive today. They are: Willian Scherfel Sr., and J. Edgar Huy. Those who have died over the years are: C. Allyn Brown, the Rev. Trostle B. Dick, Russell Tyson Sr. and Samuel Miller. Although the original group did not include Huy, it was only three months after the group organized the association that Miller resigned and Huy took his place. Shortly after Huy became a director, the association purchased its first tract of land consisting of four acres at the present location. Since that time the playground has expanded to 27 acres and is under the direction of Newman Creswell, president of the association.

★COLLECTORS — There seems to be two major schools of thought on the collection of baseball cards—those two by four inch color cards of major league baseball players —by Pottstown boys and girls. On the one side there are those who collect the nearby Philadelphia Phillies only because of loyalty. The Phillies are on the bottom of the National league. The other school goes in for those teams that are nearer the top. One such collector is Warren Hatfield, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hatfield, 316 North Charlotte street, who is collecting the Milwaukee, Pittsburgh and San Francisco Giant teams. Warren says these teams are the best in his opinion and it's unlikely that the Phillies will do very much this year. So far Warren has a collection of 372 cards for this season of card collecting that began in April. With the duplicate cards that come out each season, by September—the end of baseball card collecting season—a collector could have over 800 cards.

DAY OUT — Horace Prince, 959 Queen street, observed his birthday yesterday with a big day on the town. He took his lovely wife to Philadelphia, then went to the races, and finally wound up in a nightclub tour. Mrs. Prince is a former Navy nurse whom Prince married in Spokane, Wash., 15 years ago. . . . Dick Trythall, Pottstown RD 2, was one of the many Pottstown area persons who sped out to Indianapolis to see the 500-mile race. . . . Marilyn Prince, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Prince, Saylor court, was placed on the honor roll for scholastic proficiency at the Moravian Seminary for Girls at Bethlehem. She's a junior there.

★ ROAR — Pottstown Rotarians got a big kick last night when the Rev. John B. Frantz, Trinity minister and Rotary president, passed around an old Franklin and Marshall college program that "exposed" the speaker, T. Edward Rutter. It was a photograph of a "Freshman quartet" that sang back in April 19, 1928, at a Lancaster concert. The four really resembled freshmen. They had on college dinkie hats, and their mouths were as wide open as a sunfish catching flies. A third member of the quartet was George B. Zendt, formerly of Schwenksville and now of Ft. Washington. The fourth was not named. . . . When a man becomes an alcoholic, his days are numbered. Scientists now say that he can count on an average of only 16 more years of life after his alcoholism becomes pronounced. All in all, alcoholism takes about 20 years off the life expectancy of its victims. The tragedy of this disease, which some scientists rate as our third-ranking public health problem, is underscored by the fact that there are today some 3,000,000 people in this country who think they have their drinking under control, but who are within a shadow of confirmed alcoholism. . . . Earl L. Styer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Styer, Perkiomenville RD 1, is taking Army basic training at Ft. Dix, N. J.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. J. P.: For the past few years I have been troubled by pigment spots and patches on my face. This condition started about the time I discovered I had an enlarged heart.

Would this have any connection and, if not, what could cause this condition and can it be corrected?

Answer: Pigment disturbances are not well understood but, as a rule, they are not connected with any heart condition.

A skin specialist should be consulted.

Mrs. R. H. N.: I have been told that reducing pills cause cataracts.

Is this true?

Answer: None of the reducing pills now prescribed by doctors have been known to cause cataracts.

Many years ago, a preparation was used that did produce cataracts, but this drug has long since been abandoned.

R. C. C.: Can there be any ill effects from using too much saccharin and mayonnaise?

Answer: Saccharin, in the usual amounts consumed in an average diet, is generally thought to be harmless.

Mayonnaise is rich in fat and cholesterol and should be used in moderation and not at all if you are overweight.

FIRE CODE DRAFTS ARE REQUESTED

send a letter to each of the borough fire companies explaining the policy on reimbursements for repairs and improvements made by the company.

The letter will follow one sent to the Empire Hook and Ladder company denying a reimbursement for curbing that the company had requested.

The note, to be drawn up by McKinney, will explain the borough's policy that general maintenance to the company's own property is the responsibility of the company.

THE MESSAGE to Empire explained that there is a "serious question whether the borough could, and should" make reimbursements for such expenditures.

O'Dell noted that "the third time around they would probably hang the social room decorations on us."

In other action, the committee voted unanimously to overhaul the motor on a 1956 Ahrens Fox pumper owned by Goodwill Fire company in the borough garage unless a local garage could do the job more quickly and less expensively.

The committee authorized McKinney to check with the local garages, then either award the job or schedule it for repairs at the borough garage.

THE PUMPER was tested recently and found to operate at 93 percent efficiency after Goodwill had complained that it was malfunctioning.

Following the repair, the committee ordered that it be tested twice a month during the next three months. The order followed a suggestion by West ward councilman Nicholas A. Palladino that the malfunction—leakage of water into the oil—may be because of lack of use.

"The engine often stands idle two or three months in succession," he explained, "and the leather gaskets need time to expand and halt the leakage."

He also charged that at no time will the pumper ever be given the use it was during the test. McKinney agreed: "I don't think we will ever have a fire in Pottstown where it would have to run as long and as hard as it did that day."

McKINNEY estimated the cost of the motor overhaul at $1000 dollars, and said it was better to set a slightly higher figure and have the money available after Palladino called the $1000 figure "excessive."

McKinney also questioned whether two pumpers were needed by the Goodwill company. "In the next two or three years we might be better off replacing the two old ones with one new one."

Earlier in the evening, representatives of Goodwill had told the committee they wanted to get rid of a 1916 pumper since "it is no good and just takes up space."

Richard Lindauer, former fire chief serving on the apparatus committee, told the committee that the company would be glad to dispose of it in any manner the committee desired.

THEY TURNED over to McKinney the three bids they had received on it — ranging from $150 to $350—and an offer from an unidentified Syracuse, N. Y., man who said he would top any bid.

The committee authorized McKinney to see if there were any legal reasons why the borough couldn't negotiate the sale.

In reply to a question by Bolton, Lindauer stressed that there were no strings attached. Bolton explained that if the fire company sold it, they could turn over the money to be placed in escrow, and the borough would do the same if they negotiate the sale.

Bolton explained that "unless something unforseen—like an accident—happened to one of the other apparatus, you (Goodwill) are in line for the next piece of apparatus."

McKinney's statement later in the evening hinted that the sale of both the 1916 model and the 1946 model and their replacement with one new model might better serve the borough.

Man Released On $1000 Bail

James King, 601 Water street, was released on $1000 bail to await action by the county court of quarter sessions after he pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated assault and battery at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Merritt Wien in borough hall Thursday afternoon.

Police said King stabbed Alexander Little, Hotel James, during an alley fight the past Sunday.

Little, who spent several days recuperating in Memorial hospital, said he was willing to drop the charge against King. But Wien turned down the request, saying he is "sick and tired of all this stabbing business in Pottstown."

"Some day," Wien said, "one of these men is going to find himself charged with murder—and that won't be so easy to shrug off."

Woman Suffers Cuts When Thrown By Horse

Mrs. Jessie Vaughan, wife of Nelson M. Vaughan, Pottstown RD 1, suffered facial cuts Thursday when she was thrown from a horse near her home. The woman was admitted to Memorial hospital at 5:15 p.m. Her condition Thursday night was satisfactory.

Volunteer Inductees Must Wait Month

Three men scheduled to be inducted into the Army in June will have to wait until July, Selective Service board 110 announced Thursday.

The induction of the volunteers was postponed because Mrs. Elizabeth Black, board clerk, will begin two weeks of sick leave on June 27, the day the inductions were originally scheduled.

Mrs. Black, of 315 King street, said that arrangements will be made to keep the office open on a part time basis during her sick leave.

She was not able to say whether six would be inducted in July, or just the three held over from June.

Light's Plight Sighted—Now Works Right

The lighted light came to light Wednesday when neighbors of the light decided to find out why the lighted light was lit.

The only thing wrong with the street light that has been shinning several weeks 24 hours a day was that it needed a new eye.

An official of the Philadephia Electric company said the light at the corner of North Charlotte and Mervine streets needed a whole new eye rather than just glasses—an electric eye that is.

Borough officials said they did not know or care since they did not have to foot the bill. The electric company said solemnly, "we'll look into it."

An so they did. A new electric eye was tenderly set into place, lighting the light only at night.

It seems that many street lights in the borough have the electric eyes that tell the light when to turn on. Of course when the eye gets weak and can not see well, and can not tell whether it is day or night — a very serious condition with eyes — the light makes sure it does its duty and shines all the time.

The electric company official added that by the end of the year all the borough street lights should have electric eyes. This may well open a new field for optometrists.

POLICE GROUP TO FIGHT FOR GUADAGNO

without first going to court. But if supervisors are obstinate, to the courts we will go." The courts then would decide the matter and set any damages for Guadagno.

Reilly said that one reason for lateness in answering charges was that Guadagno's wife turned seriously ill a month ago and died May 23.

"Jim was under great strain and was distracted from replying to the commisioners. I think commissioners should take due note of that condition," said Reilly.

Commissioners, however, are on record as wanting a replacement for Guadagno. They have 12 applications for the job and will make a selection this weekend.

Two applicants are Marshall Kauffman and Russell Hummel. Kauffman, 299 Walnut street, has been police chief of Warwick township four years. Hummel, 411 Apple street, was a Pottstown policeman 11 years.

LAD PLAYING WITH FRIEND INSIDE SILO

door at the bottom of the silo inside the barn.

Efforts to revive the boy by artificial respiration proved futile.

The boy was pronounced dead by Dr. Joshua C. Bray, Obelisk.

HARRY WOODMAN Jr., deputy county coroner, ruled that death was due to accidental asphyxiation. There will be no inquest.

State Trooper Thomas Cuff of the Jeffersonville barracks investigated.

Paul was a Fifth grade pupil at the New Hanover Joint school, where he was to have graduated today. He attended the Limerick Non-sectarian church, where he was a member of the Youth Triumphant club. He also belonged to the Upper Perkiomen 4-H dairy club.

Paul's mother said he had always been a deeply religious boy. "We can take comfort in the knowledge that's he's now in Heaven with Jesus," she said.

MRS. NIKERLE said she would wait until her husband returned from Philadelphia, where he has a produce route, to inform him of their son's death. She said she expected her husband to return late Thursday night.

"There's no need to call him and tell him now," the grief-stricken mother said Thursday afternoon. "There's nothing he can do now."

With his parents Paul is survived by three sisters, Christine, Karlene and Joy; four brothers, John, James, Thomas and Kevin and his paternal grandfather, John Nikerle Sr., all at home.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2 p. m., from the L. W. Ott Funeral home, 111 North Reading avenue, Boyertown.

The Rev. Clarence H. Didden, pastor of Limerick Non-sectarian church, will officiate. Interment will be in Keeler's Church cemetery.

Church Kindergarten Ends School Year

ZIEGLERVILLE — Mrs. Robert Krupp, Corr., Leon Hillegas, Del., Phone AT 7-9737.

The Christian Kindergarten of Schwenksville Jerusalem Lutheran church finished their school year with an outing at the Isaac Smith park, Green Lane.

There were 25 children attending the kindergarten through the year. Mrs. Frank Reigle was the teacher.

At a meeting of the consistory of the Old Goshenhoppen UCC the consistory decided that beginning with the month of July, Sunday morning worship services will begin at 10:15 o'clock.

BETTER THAN BEFORE

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The antique French clock on the mantel at State Assemblyman Frank Luckel's home didn't run. It was just a showpiece.

Then it was stolen and, when police recovered it, it was running. Luckel put it back on the mantel as a real timepiece.

Showers Seen Approaching On Westerly Air

that mark at 3 p. m. The highest was 82 at 4 p. m. Low was 57 at 6 and 7 a. m. Tonight's low will be in the low 60s.

On April 26 the temperature hit 87 and on the 23d hit 91. May's highest temperature was 84 on the 16th.

The cool westerly air will bring this afternoon's showers and cooler temperatures over the weekend. Based on weather bureau records for the past 46 years, June winds come most frequently from the southeast.

Winds switch to northwesterly in July and back again to southeast in August and September. During the rest of the year winds are predominantly from the northwest.

Why the winds change in July is a mystery the weather bureau can not answer.

complete medical checkup, checking off the no column on the slip where it asked whether the applicant had any of the following diseases:

Neurological, cardiac, circulatory, neuropsychiatric, epilepsy, hysteria, narcolepsy.

He also checked off the "no" boxes when it asked whether Miss Lasky was an alcoholic, narcotic addict, or diabetic.

NOW MISS Lasky could only wait while the square gears of government turned.

Dr. Anthony will mail the certificate to the Bureau of Traffic Safety at Harrisburg and the bureau will then mail Miss Lasky an application for a learner's permit.

Then Miss Lasky goes back into action, filling out the application in front of a notary public and mailing it with $4 back to the bureau in Harrisburg.

Again the wheels will move, and eventually the mailman will bring an envelope from Harrisburg with the treasured learner's permit.

Then the squeals will start around the Spruce street home, but her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lasky are used to it.

The Lasky's other daughter, Carole, 17, a senior at Pottstown High school, went through the same stage last Summer.

"Mother, can I drive to the store?"

"Dad, take me out for another lesson tonight?"

"Please, I can drive well enough to go on High street."

And finally, sometime this Summer, she will be able to drive well enough. And with the whole family wishing her luck, she'll return to the examination station and take her driver's test.

Then the wails will probably go like this: "Carole had the car last night. It's my turn."

Citizens Quiz Sewer Panel On North Coventry Setup

back of the auditorium shouted, "Where will the sewage treatment plant be built and how much will it cost?"

A chorus of answers from the audience said, "On Russell Keim's property!"

Keim is president of township supervisors. The estimated cost of buying his ground and four rights of way around it is $13,000, said authority members.

The yearly rental for sewer lines in North Coventry probably will drop $11.

The original fee was $64 but the "probability" of Federal aid will slice the yearly costs to $53.

R. W. Simpson, engineer for the sewer project said, "There is no doubt that North Coventry is next on the list to receive $130,000."

The boroughs of Athens and Sayre topped North Coventry on the eligibility list for funds, but those communities definitely forfeited their government aid, said Simpson.

"PUBLIC HEALTH officials assured me that we will get the money as soon as possible. I imagine that will be before July 1," Simpson added.

But questions of many taxpayers indicated they were upset over acquiring a million dollar debt for sewers.

Donald Weller, Meadowbrook road declared, "I have figures which indicate it could be best for us to tie in sewage needs with Pottstown. Why is doing so considered a dead issue by the sewer authority?" he asked.

Colver, said, "At first we were enthused with the idea of latching sewer pipes in this township to those in Pottstown. "But things developed which changed the entire picture. And the things I refer to were costs of construction. Pottstown says our estimate of $560,000 is erroneous. We say it is as near to reality as we can judge it," said Colver.

He added, "We dropped the idea of tying into Pottstown when the cost came to over a half million dollars, with a large chunk of that cash going into Pottstown's coffers."

WELLER THEN noted pollution problems in North Coventry began with contamination in South Pottstown. "Why not lay most of the burden of construction to people living in that area?" he asked.

He continued, "The people in other sections of North Coventry have cesspools that are adequate. They don't need sewer lines, but they will pay most of the construction bill through big assessment charges."

Anderson Page, bond councel, answered Weller by declaring, "The courts have decreed assessments on a per-foot basis are the only way to pay for sewers. You might think it best to have a fixed tax on each home, thus making crowded sections in South Pottstown pay the most.

"I'm afraid such a scheme is entirely illegal," he said.

BENJAMIN WADE, 65 Urner street, said that sewers might cost him $1000 and wanted to know if he was compelled to join the project.

Page answered, "This is a community undertaking. The matter is not up to individuals to decide to join or keep clear of sewer lines. Everyone told to hook up to sewers must do so."

Fred Lydic, Vaughn road, inquired how the sewer authority got the right to tell taxpayers what to do.

Page explained, "Questions about the rights of public authorities are raging all over the country. But the courts say that with or without the approval of township supervisors, or even of tax payers, an authority can go ahead with its work.

"There is one thing authorities can not do. That is to levy assessments to pay for sewers. That job is up to supervisors," said Page.

WADE THEN remarked, "I think everyone should attend the next supervisors' meeting to tell our government what we feel about high taxes."

C. C. Collings Jr., official of a brokerage firm, said, "North Coventry needs sewers because the State health department says so.

"But there is an advantage to buying a utility such as sewer facilities. Industry and more homes will move into the township and your real estate taxes are likely to drop.

"I know of one community that lowered its taxes eight mills after sewers were installed and industry moved in," he declared.

C. Donald Marshall, Laurel Locks farm, said, "There was little opposition to building a new school some years ago. Maybe that was because you could see the finished construction.

"Sewers are unseen and people are skeptical about investing money underground. But I think sewer lines are needed and would be a great community asset," he declared.

The sewer system will be built for 5000 persons. Present users would total 3000. Construction will start in mid July.

Building, Pay Cause Rise In School Budget

A budget of $152,740 was adopted Thursday by the New Hanover-Upper Frederick Joint School board.

H. J. Davis, president, said the budget is higher because of teacher increments, additional teachers and an eight room addition to the New Hanover-Upper Frederick Elementary school.

With the addition the school will have 20 rooms which will be ready for occuancy in September. The board will make a tour of the school facilities before July 1 to accept the work and make recommendations, Davis said.

He added that the construction has been completed except for the sewage plant.

ARTHUR LANDIS, Fagleysville, was re-elected treasurer for another year, and Davis was elected secretary to begin his duties July 1. He will take over from Russell A. Frey, and will give up his position as president.

A president will be elected July or August, Davis said. In the meantime Thomas Arthur, vice president, will take over the president's duties, Davis said.

Sincere, Devoted Pastor

friend of the family and visited many times, Stouffer said. "When I lost my son in 1933, he visited us frequently and he was very popular with our children."

While a man with a heart-lifting wit and sense of humor, the Rev. Simpson was a serious student of the Bible and had his own ideas about how a pastor should deliver a sermon.

A Shakespearian actor once told him that "no ministers knew how to read the Bible properly."

At first the pastor was angry and thought the statement untrue, but after thinking it over he decided the actor was right. He then spent a long time perfecting his delivery of Bible passages.

"MANY TIMES he said he would have liked to have been a Shakespearean actor," said one of his close friends, Lois Creswell, 370 Spruce street. Many Pottstown businessmen took his course on public speaking at the YMCA 10 or 11 years ago.

The Rev. Simpson took up the hobby of bowling some 25 years ago to get exercise. He bowled at the YMCA in the afternoons.

Despite his tallness, which gave him excellent leverage on the hardwoods, his average was not among his boasts.

Bowlers still recall how he meekly commented, "Too bad!" when he came up with a "split" or a "gutter ball."

A VERY humane person, the Rev. Simpson found great satisfaction in his work.

When the Rev. William Wachter, for 25 years rector of St. Aloysius Roman Catholic church, was ill prior to his death in 1934, the Rev. Simpson paid a sick call on his fellow clergyman.

"Pray for me," the Catholic rector asked, and the Presbyterian minister knelt by the bedside.

"He seemed much brighter," the Rev. Simpson reported afterwards.

$9900. He was instrumental in building campaigns in the church in 1929 and 1936.

THE REV. SIMPSON was noted as an effective speaker who made extensive use of the dramatic element.

One of his closest friends, Christian Stouffer, 972 North Charlotte street, said, "His experience provided him with a wealth of illustrations taken from his own knowledge, and people could feel what he said very personally. He had an outstanding instinct for dramatic presentation, and he also was very familiar with the Bible."

"He was a very helpful friend to have many times," said Mrs. Edgar Kurtz, 612 North Evans street, who started a 45 year friendship when she and her husband helped the pastor to find his first home in Pottstown. "He was kind, especially in cases of sickness."

The Rev. Simpson came to America in 1889 at the age of 20 from his home in Wolverton, Buckinghamshire, England. He was the eighth of 11 children of William and Mary (Atterbury) Simpson. His mother was a native of Forfar, Scotland.

He lived with his eldest brother in Syracuse, N.Y., on coming to the United States and attended a business college.

IN SYRACUSE he became active in the Emmanuel church and the pastor persuaded him to enter college and study for the ministry. He graduated from the University of Rochester in 1895, winning a gold medal in an oratorical contest and being elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholarship society.

He was a member of the college athletic team and held a high jump record for several years.

In 1898 he graduated from the Rochester Theological seminary and was ordained in Syracuse as pastor of the newly organized Lowell Avenue church. He was instrumental in erecting the church.

Before coming to Pottstown he also was pastor of churches in Syracuse and Cazenovia, N. Y.

IN ADDITION to his wife, he is survived by two granddaughters, both of whom live in Berkeley, Calif., and a number of nephews and nieces in England.

Funeral services will be tomorrow at 11 a. m. from the First United Presbyterian church with the Rev. William A. Guenther, pastor of the church, officiating.

He will be assisted by the Rev. Dr. John B. Frantz, pastor of the Trinity Reformed United Church of Christ, and the Rev. Osborne Rowland, pastor of the Norriton-Lower Providence United Presbyterian church and a representative of the Philadelphia presbytery. The Rev. Simpson had requested that the Rev. Frantz join in the services.

Interment will be in Mt. Zion's cemetery.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Houck funeral home, 112 North Washington street.

Ty Cobb Has Utilities Trouble

ATHERTON, Calif. (AP)—Ty Cobb, 73, one of baseball's immortals, filed a lawsuit Thursday demanding that gas and electric service be restored in his Atherton mansion.

He said Pacific Gas & Electric Co. cut the service off because he refused to pay a disputed $120 bill.

His suit in Superior Court demanded that service be restored and asked an unspecified amount of damages and $5,000 punitive damages.

TY COBB

Cobb insisted the company billed him when his Atherton home was unoccupied. He spends part of the year in Georgia and part at Lake Tahoe.

"I'm no big shot," the Georgia Peach told a reporter. "I'm a small town boy. I don't like to be shoved around."

Said a PG&E spokesman: "This is a simple case of nonpayment. He was sent a reminder, then a cutoff notice. Then a collector went out to call but found no one in authority at home."

Adolph Hitler's Sister Dies

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany (AP)—Adolf Hitler's sister Paula died here Wednesday, police said. She was 64.

Although officially known as Paula Hitler, she had called herself Paula Wolf to avoid identification with the Nazi fuehrer.

Paula had often said she never got along with the fuehrer, who had provided her with only a small income while he ruled the Third Reich and never invited her to social functions.

After Nazi Germany was defeated in 1945, Miss Hitler withdrew more and more from the world. In the last few years she lived on a tiny government pension in a small room of the old house where she died.

Horse Inherits $3500 Estate

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A riding horse is sole beneficiary of the $3,500 estate of St. Louis attorney Robert S. Green.

Under terms of Green's will filed for probate Thursday, he appointed two friends, William B. Quinn and Howard F. Willis, to be trustee of the estate "to pay such funds as they see fit for the care of the 23-year-old horse, named Willy.

If the funds last longer than Willy, the balance will go to the Humane Society of Missouri. If not, the will said Willy is to be "mercifully destroyed."

Green formerly was president of the Trail Riders Assn. here. He rode the horse each Sunday in secluded sections of St. Louis County. Green died May 22.

Housewife Ducks Chunk of Ice

JOHNSTOWN (AP) — A 22 year old Cambria county housewife, hanging clothes in her back yard, heard a loud "whoosh" Thursday and looked up to see a big ball of ice coming out of the sky.

Mrs. Dixie Lewis of Portage said she jumped aside and the huge chunk of ice smashed into the ground, breaking into pieces the size of dinner plates.

Police Chief Victor Fukas said the ice was light green in color and smelled like soap. He picked up a few fragments and stored them in a cooler for analysis by experts.

In Pittsburgh, a spokesman for the weather bureau said there was no activity on the weather map to justify the formation of hail or ice over the area.

"This has happened in the past," said Henry Rockwood, chief of the U. S. weather bureau. "The only logical conclusion is the ice came from iced wings on an airplane."

"We are going to stay married."

Only Wednesday Tamblyn and his bride said they were still living under the same roof at his beach house but "probably will separate."

The couple met two years ago in England but didn't see each other again until they met and married May 1 in Las Vegas, Nev.

"Too much detailed planning can be the enemy of vitality and growth in a society. The great contributions of history have been made by men and women with great daring and an adventurous spirit", said Dr. T. Edward Rutter, superintendent of the Radnor township schools, during the course of his address Thursday at the weekly meeting of the Pottstown Rotary club.

Rutter, a Pottstown High school graduate, class of 1925, spoke to eight young people from local and area high schools who received the Rotary service award, their parents and school principals, and 80 Rotarians who attended the meeting at the Brookside Country club.

Dr. Rutter, son of Thomas L. Rutter, former borough tax collector, and the late Mrs. Rutter, was introduced by the Rev. Dr. John B. Frantz, president of the Rotary club, who presided at the meeting. He also introduced George B. Zendt, Fort Washington, a guest. Rutter, Zendt and Dr. Frantz formed three members of a quartet that sang in the Franklin and Marshall College Glee club 1927-1928. They renewed college and glee club trip experiences during the meeting.

The awards are given to the boy and girl in the Senior class, "who in addition to having good scholastic standing also exemplifies the fundamental principles of Rotary." The candidates are recommended by the faculty of the respective schools.

Those who received the awards were Dorothy Schindler and Anthony I. Kostiner, Pottstown Senior High school; Edith Melita Hoffer and George B. Parshall 3d, Owen J. PURSE-SNATCHER

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A curb-service purse snatcher has been reported at work here. Mrs. Marjorie Bruce complained to police that when she got off a bus one night the driver of a car which had been following the bus slowed down, grabbed her purse and drove off.

Bulldozer Operator Unearths $70,000

JERICHO, N. Y. (AP)—A bulldozer operator cleaning off a vacant lot Thursday dug up a metal box containing more than $70,000 in bills. Police said they have no idea how the money got there.

The bills—20s, 50s and 100s—were wrapped in brown paper, placed in a foot-long gray steel box and buried about two feet in the ground.

Stephen Fox, 40, of Hicksville, said he was removing brush with his bulldozer when he found the box. He immediately turned it over to police.

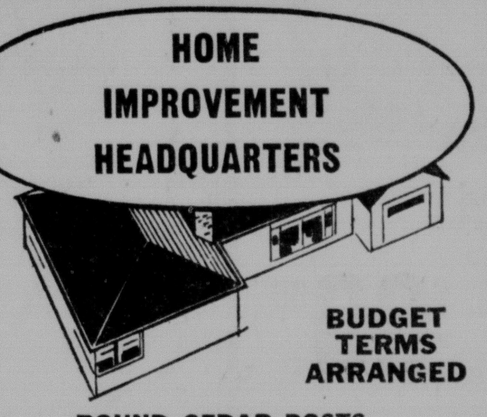

The lot is owned by Arthur Shodnex, who is planning to build an industrial structure there.

Nassau County police are trying to find out who owns the money and how it got there.

Blunders in Cuban Farm Program Receive Castro Attention

HAVANA (AP) — Some well-placed Cubans predict Prime Minister Fidel Castro may soon leave his government in other hands and make a personal attempt to steer his National Institute of Agrarian Reform away from disaster.

They say the agrarian reform program which Castro has made the keystone of his social and economic revolution, is faltering badly.

"If that program falls, Castro may fall with it," one Cuban said.

The institute celebrated the first anniversary of the agrarian reform law that set it up with a lengthy television program late last month. The progress of the organization was described in detail.

But usually informed people, including some officials of the government itself, say "INRA"—as Cubans call the institute — has reached a state of virtual bankruptcy through waste and inefficiency, pouring millions of dollars into projects which may never pay off.

INRA has developed into an economic superstate from its original objectives. It now runs wide industrial, import, export, and commercial as well as agricultural activities.

Unofficial sources say they have learned that Capt. Antonio Nunez Jimenez, left-wing director of the institute, was sent on a commercial mission to the Soviet bloc as a convenient method of easing him out.

Waldo Medina, head of the INRA legal department and a kingpin in confiscating Cuban and American agricultural holdings, lost his job Wednesday. Rene Anillo, director of the bitterly anti-American newspaper Combate, was named to replace him.

During its first year, INRA has created thousands of rural cooperatives and virtually taken over the production and marketing of most Cuban farm products.

But it has made blunders its critics call colossal.

INRA tomato cooperatives produced a splendid crop that could have sold at top prices in U.S. winter markets. But critics report someone forgot to order shipping boxes until it was too late to catch the peak demand.

INRA took over the marketing of all eggs in Cuba, then let an estimated 350,000 spoil in warehouses while seeking better prices. The head of the INRA egg department is reported under military detention on charges of sabotage.

An even bigger blunder may be in the making. As fast as the 1960 sugar crop was harvested, INRA began seizing thousands of acres of canelands, and incorporating them into state cooperatives. But in most areas officials made no move to start the usual canefield cleanup, fertilization and replanting.

It may take more than an administrative shakeup to undo such damage to the mainstay of the Cuban economy.

The consensus of half a dozen American and Cuban sugar executives is that unless there is an abrupt improvement in INRA's management of canelands, Cuba may be lucky to produce 5.5 million long tons of sugar in 1961, compared to an estimated 6.3 million tons this year.

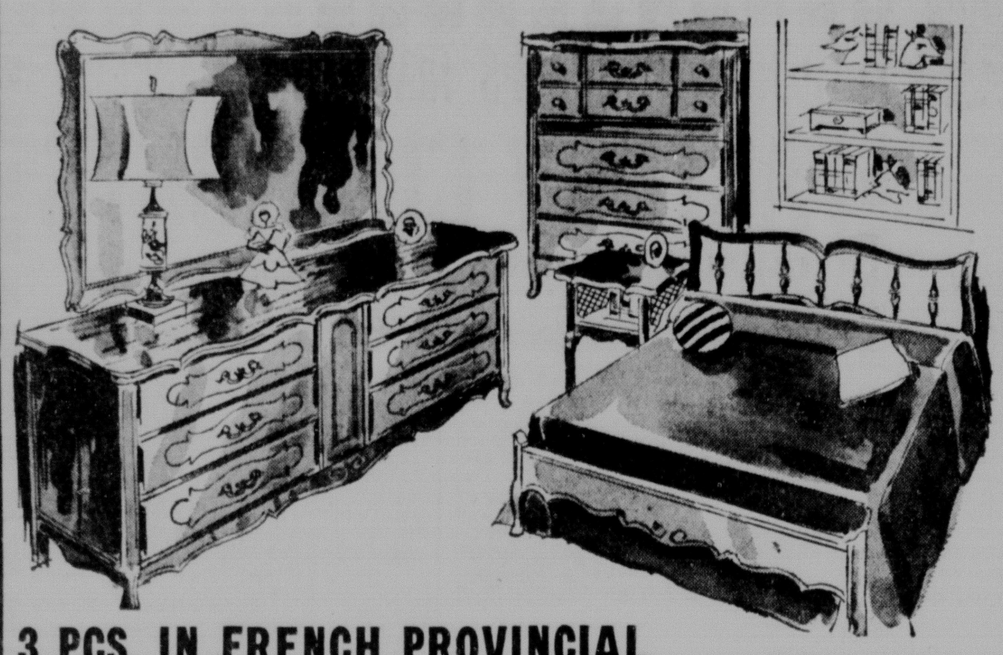

Honor System Works

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies say the honor system of self-service drinking underwent a successful test at the Walmore Inn, town of Niagara.

Answering a report of four men being inside before opening time, they sped to the tavern. Sure enough, the men were inside "drinking and paying for each drink and making the right change from the till."

Owner Stanley Gibbs said he forgot to lock the door. Officers took the drinkers' names but no charges were placed.

KENNEDY BACKED BY MICHIGAN

New Developments Spark Democrat Battle

JOHNSON OFFICIALLY PLACED IN CONTEST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts Thursday won the support of Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, head of a 51-vote delegation to the Democratic presidential nominating convention.

This declaration by Williams strengthened Kennedy's claim to a long lead in the nomination race, while two other developments heightened interest in the battle:

1. Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn of Texas and other friends openly put Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, into the contest.

2. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, reporting a groundswell of support for Adlai E. Stevenson, disclosed he had telegraphed Stevenson asking: "When are you going to make a direct move for the nomination? Many people are waiting."

* * *

The Williams-for-Kennedy statement was made known here and in Michigan. Kennedy had gone to the governor's summer home at Mackinac Island for a conference on Williams' invitation.

Williams told newsmen in advance their talk would center on campaign issues and the party's 1960 platform. He said there would be no political deals made.

Williams, one of whose principal supporters is President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers, is a six-term governor with a strong following.

Bomarc Missile Is Shifted to Second Target

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—A Bomarc-A interceptor missile, nearing its final dive on a target, was shifted to a second, more deadly target in a test firing Thursday. A second Bomarc-A was then launched and in theory knocked down the original target.

The action, more than 100 miles out over the Gulf of Mexico, provided another successful defense against a simulated enemy sneak attack on the northwest Florida coast.

The first target, a QF80 pilotless converted Shooting Star jet fighter, was sighted electronically closing in on the mainland at an altitude of 30,000 feet and at subsonic speed.

The first Bomarc was launched on command of the SAGE—Semi-Automatic Ground Environment—system of the Montgomery Air Defense Sector at Gunter AFB, Ala. The SAGE computers fed data to the Bomarc and directed it to intercept the target.

As the 47-foot-long missile closed in on the QF80 drone, a second, faster target, a supersonic Regulus II missile, was spotted by long-range radar. Moments before the Bomarc began its terminal dive, a signal from SAGE ordered it to disengage and alter its flight path to the second target.

A second Bomarc was then launched against the QF80.

Both missiles swept within short distances of the targets, setting off proximity fuses in their noses. The fuses would have triggered off nuclear warheads if the defense weapons had been so armed.

The two launchings brought to 10 the consecutive number of successful firings of the Bomarc-A from the Santa Rosa Island missile test center during the past three months. It has a range in excess of 200 miles.

Russian Missile Threat Called 'Cold War Bluff'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. defense chief Thursday dismissed as a cold war bluff a new Soviet threat to hurl missiles at any bases from which planes violate Soviet air space.

Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. gave this opinion at the windup of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's inquiry into the downing of a U.S. spy plane inside the Soviet Union on May 1 and the foundering of the summit talks two weeks later.

Gates assessed the new threat as a bluff because "I don't believe Mr. Khrushchev wants to start a war which he knows will be the end of his country."

Under questioning, the Pentagon chief agreed there were strong indications—which he stressed are "just speculation"—that a military faction may have risen in the U.S.S.R. and cut down some of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's power.

The new rocket threat—directed at U.S. allies which harbor American bases—was made Monday in a speech by Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, Soviet defense minister.

But Gates said military elements in the U.S.S.R. "should know better than the political leaders that they will be lost, and slaughtered and devastated in a nuclear war."

And he told one questioning senator that if Malinovsky made good his threat and this started general war, he believed the United States could win.

As in the case of previous witnesses in the committee's post-mortem inquiry on the summit collapse, Gates testified in secret. A transcript was made public after being censored for security reasons.

In his testimony Gates replied to many of the criticisms that have been leveled at him and other top administration officials since the summit crashed in mid-May before it got off the ground.

Censors struck out whatever Gates said about methods that might be used to ferret out the data formerly collected by U2s flying high over the U.S.S.R. and photographing military and production sites below.

Banks Reduce Discount Rate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal reserve banks in Philadelphia and San Francisco Thursday cut their discount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent effective Friday.

The rate is the charge when member banks borrow money from the reserve system.

Thus the cut represents a movement toward lower interest rates generally.

A spokesman for the board of governors of the reserve system said the action is a reflection of "the decline in inflationary psychology."

This is the first change in the discount rate since last September when it was increased from 3½ to 4 per cent at all of the 12 federal reserve banks.

Tibetan Guerrillas Step Up Attacks Against Chinese Communist Troops

Editors Note—This dispatch was cabled Wednesday from Calcutta, India, after being brought out of Bhutan by mule, the only transportation available. AP correspondent Henry S. Bradsher, on a tour of the Himalayan kingdom, wrote the story May 27.

PARO, Bhutan (AP) — The revolt by Tibetan guerrillas against Chinese Communist troops is surging up anew in south-central Tibet, say reports reaching this trade center in northwestern Bhutan.

Information from several official sources in the Tibetan border region of this independent Himalayan kingdom, and from unofficial informants, says truckloads of Chinese dead have been brought by night to Gyantse, southwest of Lhasa, the main Tibetan trade center and former headquarters of the exiled Dalai Lama. Trouble also was reported brewing in western Tibet near the Ladakh area, claimed by both India and China.

The fighting has increased the flow of Tibetan refuges to Bhutan, which admitted 4,000 last year after the Chinese crushed the Lhasa uprising and the Dalai Lama fled to India. Prime Minister Jigme Palden Dorji says about 200 refuges have arrived here in the past few weeks.

He fears that if they stay, the Chinese will send agents to stir up trouble for this undeveloped country. Dorji also said New Delhi notified Bhutan, a month ago that India would no longer accept Tibetan refuges. No reason was given.

About 400 Tibetans fled to the tiny Indian protectorate of Sikkim a day or so ago. This is one of the largest groups to flee Tibet in recent months.

Sources here give the following picture of Tibet:

Resistance to the Chinese this spring is thought to be the most severe since the Chinese cracked down last year.

The Chinese are now trying to capture guerrilla strongpoints southwest of Gyantse in the direction of the borders of Nepal and Sikkim. Some nomadic tribesmen as well as organized guerrilla bands are opposing them.

At Shigatse, Tibet, the Chinese armed monks guarding a monastery under jurisdiction of the puppet Panchen Lama and sent them to capture a rebel fort, but the monks turned against the Chinese. The Panchen Lama, installed by the Chinese after the Dalai Lama fled, is reported under palace arrest in Lhasa.

As a result of the fighting, Chinese deportation of able-bodied Tibetans and Chinese colonization of Tibet are being stepped up.

A top Asian official declared: "There won't be any Tibetans in five years. They will be transported by the thousands. You won't hear about them again."

Visitors for Mamie

President Eisenhower and his son, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, are accompanied by Maj. Gen. C. F. St. John as they enter Walter Reed hospital in Washington. Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower is a patient at the hospital. She is suffering from an attack of acute asthmatic bronchitis. St. John is the hospital commandant.

Mamie Cancels Reunion Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower stopped by the hospital on his way home from the golf course Thursday for another brief visit with Mrs. Eisenhower.

The First Lady is reported "responding to treatment and coming along quite well" at Walter Reed Army Hospital. She has been there since Tuesday afternoon suffering from acute asthmatic bronchitis.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty announced that Mrs. Eisenhower has canceled her plans to accompany the President to his 45th class reunion at the U.S. Military Academy in West Point this weekend. It is expected she will remain in the hospital over the weekend.

Cigaret Premiums Banned By State

HARRISBURG, (AP)—The State Revenue department Thursday banned the offering of premiums to promote the sale of cigarets.

The department said the action was taken with approval of the Justice department under the Pennsylvania unfair cigaret sale act.

The offering of premiums, said the department, will be considered as evidence of an intent to destroy or substantially lessen competition. A violation is subject to a fine of $200 or up to 60 days' imprisonment for a first offense.

Broadway Shows Close; Long Strike is Feared

NEW YORK (AP)—Every major Manhattan stage show was closed tight Thursday night, as the vibrant melody of Broadway was muted by the first actors strike in 41 years.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner made his second try in as many days to get Actors Equity and the producers off dead center in a contract dispute.

Wagner proposed a city fact-finding inquiry into the quarrel. When the producers rejected this, the mayor announced at City Hall that not a Broadway curtain would rise Thursday night.

His statement was confirmed by producer Alexander H. Cohen, who said: "There will be absolutely no shows until there is an agreement. Actors Equity is on strike. It looks like a long one to me."

Actors Equity, in a bitter deadlock with producers over pensions, touched off the strike at dusk Wednesday night when the 17-member cast of "The Tenth Man" failed to report at the Booth Theater.

An audience of 450—kept sparse by advance notice of the Equity maneuver—filed out of the theater and its marquee lights went off.

Almost at once, producers began posting closing notices backstage at the other 21 shows currently on Broadway. Thrown out of work by this retaliatory move were about 1,000 actors, plus 5,000 theatrical technicians — stagehands, musicians, electricians and others.

Negotiations between Equity and the producers resumed but in an aura of despair.

Producer David Merrick said in advance: "All theaters will be struck. All will close."

Originally, producers had announced plans to close seven Broadway shows currently on the road. But later, these plans were changed and the traveling productions were allowed to continue.

Also unaffected by the strike are 21 off-Broadway theaters, the small specialty or experimental houses outside the regular theater district.

On Broadway, however, as the footlights die so does the nightly melody they engender—the cacophony of taxi horns just before curtain time, the shuffle of feet along the sidewalks leading to the theaters, the hum from queues of ticket holders pounding rhythm of the chorus lines, the frenzy, the sights, the sounds that are Broadway after sundown.

Producers estimated that every week of a strike costs them a million dollars. The big hits can expect to recover some of this, but more than one marginal show, with anywhere from $60,000 to $400,000 invested in them, may fold.

The hidden costs of a theater strike are astronomical.

Hotels called the walkout a disaster. Tens of thousands of tourists are drawn to New York each summer by the lure of the nation's only major theatrical center.

U.S. STUDIES KHRUSHCHEV PROPOSAL

Nuclear Disarmament Plan Considered Skeptically

PROPAGANDA SEEN BASIS OF LETTER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States began a careful but skeptical study Thursday of the latest proposals for nuclear disarmament put forth by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in a letter to President Eisenhower and other government heads.

Officials said that on first examination Khrushchev's proposition seemed to offer no real hope of breaking the East-West disarmament deadlock. Negotiations will be resumed in a 10-nation conference at Geneva next Tuesday.

The heart of Khrushchev's latest plan is to concentrate in the first stage of a disarmament program on outlawing weapons, such as missiles, capable of delivering nuclear bombs or warheads. The concept of concentrating on control of the means of delivery as a way of preventing a nuclear war has been promoted by the French government for many months.

Officials said one obvious purpose of Khrushchev's new move is to win favor with France in the hope of furthering his campaign to split the Western Allies.

They also suggested the fanfare of publicity with which the plan was launched indicates that Khrushchev is mainly interested in its propaganda value. If he had considered it as a serious negotiating proposition, they said, he would most likely, have waited for the reopening of negotiations at Geneva.

The Geneva negotiations were recessed a month ago with the expectation that disarmament would be a major subject of discussion at the Paris summit conference.

Khrushchev advised Eisenhower that he had intended to put forth his plan at the summit—which would have afforded him a global sounding board. In view of the collapse of the summit conference, Khrushchev was unable to produce the plan at Paris.

A summary of Khrushchev's note to the President was forwarded from the U. S. Embassy in Moscow in advance of the full text and an accompanying document containing details of the disarmament proposals.

DAR Ends Season on Historical Note At Gathering Near Warwick Furnace

By ESTHER GRAY
(Mercury Society Editor)

Members of Mahantawny chapter of The Daughters of The American Revolution touched hands with history when they gathered for the last meeting of the season Thursday afternoon.

They were guests of Mrs. Joseph N. Pew Jr. at Warwick Furnace farm, site of the third iron furnace to be built in Chester county.

Chairs and table for the meeting were set in a sunny spot on the lawn almost within a stone's throw of the crumbling furnace walls where once the flames from its chimneys lighted the countryside and its blast could be heard for miles around.

Behind the group was the original home of Samuel Nutt who planned the furnace, a two story log house with fieldstone foundation; to the right was the substantial, large and handsome fieldstone manor house of the iron master.

The quiet of the Summer afternoon must have been in sharp contrast to the bustle of the days when the furnace was in full operation and was an important part of Pennsylvania's early iron industry.

But history of furnace and house came later, after a business session conducted by Mrs. August Wohltmann, chapter regent.

Placement of manor house, log house and terraced gardens caused the light breeze to jump from one point of the compass to the other. At times, the silken flag placed by the regent's table fluttered or was still as Mrs. Wholtmann and Mrs. Russell Freed led the group in the ritual.

The breeze suddenly stiffened and straightened when Mrs. Milton Hoefle led the group in the National anthem and the Stars and Stripes floated free, a blaze of color against the azure sky.

Annual reports were made by the treasurer, Mrs. Harry Wilson; librarian, Mrs. Frank Ackerman; program chairman, Mrs. Hoefle and ways and means chairman, Mrs. Hugh Craig.

Mrs. Elmer Haas reported the chapter received an honorable mention for the honor roll at the Continental Congress in Washington, D. C. She announced the geneological committee will copy inscriptions from head stones in the Potts burying ground, Chestnut street, between Hanover and Penn streets, and from the cemetery at Cedarville Methodist church.

Mrs. Ernest Schultz, keeper of the press book, reported five articles from The Mercury concerning the local chapter are in the press book of the National DAR.

The national defense report was given by Mrs. William Jacob.

Registrar Mrs. James Gill reported five members were accepted during the year, Mrs. Lulu Houseknecht, Helen Hoffman, Mrs. Jacob, Mrs. Charles Henderson, Mrs. Frederick Kendall, and Mrs. Harry Shope.

Two members were lost through death, the late Mrs. Frank Hutt Sr. and Mrs. James Elliott, and one, Mrs. Anna Fait, resigned. Membership now stands at 43.

Mrs. Wohltmann reported on placing flags on the graves of soldiers of the Revolution during Memorial Day services at Ellis Woods.

Delegates to a State convention Nov. 14 through 16 in Philadelphia were named as: Mrs. Hoefle, Mrs. Schultz, Mrs. Freed, Mrs. D. C. Knauer and Mrs. Craig.

Alternates are: Mrs. Gill, Mrs. John Hoffecker, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Paul Supplee, Anna Lafferty, Mrs. Ackerman, Mrs. Jacob, Mrs. Henderson, Miss Hoffman, Mrs. Kendall and Mrs. Haas. Mrs. Wohltmann will attend as regent.

Announcement was made the September meeting will take place during Constitution Week at Mrs. F. A. Kruzen's cottage at Falls of the French creek.

Mrs. Hoffecker, historian, and Mrs. Pew related a few facts about the house and furnace the ladies and one gentleman guest, William Frazer, England, were about to visit.

Mrs. Hoffecker stated the furnace, in the valley of Warwick township, was built in 1737 by Anna Nutt, widow of Samuel, who died before he could carry out his plans to construct a furnace to process ore from St. Mary's, just two miles away. She was assisted by Samuel Nutt Jr., a nephew of the landholder, and Samuel Savage.

Products of the furnace were pig iron and castings, firebacks, andirons and other household devices. During the Revolution cannons and balls were cast

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT JOSEPH CZARNECKI

Season's Meetings Ended By DAR

there, and there is an account of soldiers collecting lead weights from clocks to melt and make into bullets.

Iron was last processed in 1867 and the last castings turned out in 1895. The great house, furnace and many tenant houses were empty and silent.

Mrs. Pew, whose husband purchased the property in 1927, said restoration was done by the late R. Brognard Okie and that very few changes were made. An unattractive wing was removed but otherwise the house was much as it had been when Benjamin Franklin was a frequent visitor.

It was before the great fireplace in the dining room that Mr. Franklin, annoyed by chimney drafts, worked out plans for the Franklin stove and the first stove was made in the Warwick furnace in 1742.

Mrs. Pew then conducted her guests through the log house where three of the famous stoves, very black and with elaborately wrought decorations in the classic manner, reposed before the ancient fireplace. Here, too, was a fireback, decorated with a Pennsylvania Dutch motif, dated 1764 and marked with the name of John Potts, and Warwick furnace.

A tour of the house showed the iron masters of the 18th century were more than prosperous. Paneling, fireplaces and shell top cupboards were all in the most elegant manor.

Floors of wide, wide boards still have the original finish, a shiny blue green paint that neither sanding nor paint remover has been able to chip.

The house is a treasure trove of antique furniture, glassware, china and Currier and Ives prints, but definitely not a museum.

Above the fireplace in the great hall are two cannon balls and a bullet mold, both used in the War for Independence and cast in the furnace. Much of the iron throughout the house, originated in the same place.

Of particular interest was an original Audubon print, of birds with a calabash house. Harry McLoed, gardener for the estate, raises the same type of gourds and converts them into bird houses.

They were seen swinging in pine trees and his workshop contains hundreds of them. The profit he reaps is given to St. Mary's church. Many of the ladies left the meeting with calabashes swinging from their hands.

Almost hidden in a corner was a notice of public auction of the property in 1890. The then owner thought it important to call prospective buyers' attention to the nearness of French creek falls and excellent recreation facilities.

He also listed the nearby railroads, Warwick station at St. Peters; Wilmington and Northern railroad, Waynesboro branch of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pickering Valley branch of Reading railroad.

That four railroads should be so near, brought home to the uninitiated reader the importance of the furnace a century ago.

Here also, one learned a bell was cast in the furnace in 1777 for Independence hall and cannons and ball for the Continental Army.

Two cannons now at Valley Forge park were dredged from stony creek long after independence had been won and perhaps even after the fires in the furnace had cooled and died.

As climax for the "trip to yesterday" a few intrepid ladies and Mr. Frazer crossed stony creek road to the ruins of an old stone house, with sagging and splintered door lintel almost smothered by sumac, poison ivy and wild roses.

Convinced this was not the storied furnace the group climbed a grass covered hill, where once there was a road, and found the high walls of a remote industry slowly giving way to towering trees, vines and wild roses.

Others attending the session included: Mrs. Bayard Van Rensalaer, Mrs. Ellen Grosser, Mrs. Vincent Godschall, Norristown, associate member and honorary chapter regent, and Mrs. Orville Haas, a guest.

Joyce Lehman, East Greenville RD 1, served as honor attendant in a powder blue gown of silk. To complete her attire, she wore a powder blue crown trimmed with white pearls and carried white and blue carnations.

Richard Czarnecki, was best man for his brother.

"50¢ a tablet can be cheap!"

No one likes to pay 50c for a single tablet—including us. Nevertheless, some of the newer drugs cost that much. They seem expensive—yes, only seem. Consider this: Pneumonia used to mean 4 to 6 bedridden weeks. Loss of pay. Often hospitalization. Often death. Now, a few dollars' worth of one antibiotic will generally cure pneumonia in days. And this is only one example . . . there are many others. When you consider what a few 50c pills will do for you, they seem downright cheap.

SPAHN GAINS 3D VICTORY IN MARATHON

Bruton's Double in 9th Chases Winning Runs Across

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 9-8 Thursday night in a wild hitting affair in which the two teams amassed 30 hits.

Tony Taylor of the Phils and Felix Mantilla and Hank Aaron of the Braves hit home runs and Bill Bruton and Taylor each had three hits apiece.

Although Warren Spahn got credit for his third victory in five decisions he was knocked out of the box in the seventh inning. The Phillies, rallying in the final innings, also knocked out Don McMahon, who relieved Spahn.

Twice the Phils came within a run of tying the score. In the seventh they rallied to 6-5 and even after the Braves made three in the ninth to go ahead 9-5, the Phils scored three more to make it 9-8 and had the tying run on second base. But Bob Rush came to the rescue and fanned Cal Neeman and Joe Koppe to end the three hour and 25 minute game.

Mantilla's and Aaron's solo homers came in the fourth.

Bruton hit a double off the right field wall scoring Johnny Logan and Del Crandall in the ninth for the decisive runs. Bill had a double in the fifth and a single in the second.

The Point Spread . . .

Wanted—A Baseball League for Castoffs

By WARREN HOWARD
(Mercury Sports Writer)

IN THIS YEAR 1960, WHEN new baseball leagues seem to be springing out of the very woodwork, the proposal of another such circuit brought only a ho-hum answer, and this reporter almost missed a chance to get in on something that just has to be a good thing.

It was proferred by Paul Gibble, who heads a boys' club known as the Shamrocks. And it is perhaps the most unique idea to come along since the morning baseball school sessions began away back when.

"I want to start a league of all boys who can't make the teams in the Knee-Hi league," said Gibble, manager of the Junior league team which carries the same name as the boys club.

"We want the boys who don't get to play baseball. We don't care what or who they are. If they want to play baseball, we want them." Well, what's so unusual about that? Every kid league manager in the business says the same thing—at first.

"WE DON'T CARE if they're fat, skinny, crippled, or whatever else they might be," he went on. "If they want to play, they'll be welcome. There will be nine boys on every team, and every boy will play in every game."

It was then that the reporter began to do a double take. This sounded like recreation. "We intend to divide them up into teams so equal that everybody will have fun regardless of what happens," Gibble went on.

Gibble was inspired to organize his "league" by attending a practice session held by one of the current Knee-Hi league teams. "There must have been over a hundred kids out there, trying to get on the team," he said. "And you know all of them can't make it."

Gibble plans to hold his first league get-together Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the Far fields. The teams will also play there on Saturday, when the fields aren't in use.

* * *

'THE ONLY thing we need right now, are chest protectors," he said. "And we're not looking for new ones. But maybe if somebody has one lying around in the cellar we can make do with that. The main thing is to give those neglected kids a chance to play ball."

Gibble figures the league age limit should be the same as that imposed by the Knee-Hi league. "Let's face it," he said. "You see kids 13 years old who can't play for one reason or another. And the same with eight year olds.

"We'll get fellows there to coach them, you know. Show them the simple rules, and maybe at the end of the year we'll have a little doggie roast for them or something. Maybe even give each one a little trophy."

IT'S PROBABLE THAT this is what the Recreation commission had in mind when the Knee-Hi league was formed. Too often of late however, the beef has been put up by spectator and coach alike that the emphasis is placed too heavily on winning.

If one team goes all out to win, then the others have to follow suit, they say. Perhaps a new league, completely divorced from the Knee-Hi at Memorial park, is the answer, though not all coaches in the present circuit feel that way.

If however, Gibble's league doesn't pan out, it's still a good idea, and one that might be given some future consideration. After all, not only the good players want to play ball.

And once a week isn't too often for the other guy to have his fling, too. The Los Angeles Chargers did it, didn't they?

Sugar Ray Suspended by New York Still to Meet Pender Next Friday

NEW YORK, (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson Thursday was suspended by the New York State athletic commission until he can square himself with the Maryland commission for a runout on a Baltimore fight.

Robinson, preparing for a June 10 challenge at Boston against Paul Pender, the World middleweight champion in Massachusetts and New York, went right ahead with the plans.

"Doggone, it looks like I'll have to take some action (legal) against this State and Maryland," said Robinson at his uptown office when informed of the commission's action.

Maryland suspended Robinson for failing to appear for a May 16 bout in Baltimore. Robinson claimed he signed only for a May 14 match which was postponed. He said the contract did not provide for any postponement date on May 16.

* * *

ROBINSON WAS set down by Maryland after a May 19 hearing at which he appeared. The Massachusetts commission May 20 found no compelling reason to prevent the pending Robinson-Pender fight. New York Thursday decided to go along with Maryland.

RAY ROBINSON

Gen. Melvin Krulewitch, chairman of the New York commission, said Robinson will remain suspended here until Maryland reinstates him.

Phils' Callison Lost for 30 Days

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, plagued early in the season by injuries, got approval from National league headquarters to place outfielder John Callison on the disabled list.

That means he will be lost to the team for 30 days.

Callison, one of the brightest of the newcomers in the Phils' rebuilding program, suffered a knee injury Memorial Day. He crashed into catcher Ed Bailey of the Cincinnati Redlegs in a vain effort to score. He is in Temple university hospital.

He is the second Phil placed on the disabled list in 24 hours. The other invalid is pitcher Jack Meyer. Meyer has been fined 15 days' pay for a fracas last Saturday in Pittsburgh, general manager John Quinn said Thursday.

Chicubs Unload 5 Round Trippers, Outlast Dodgers for 10-8 Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Chicago Cubs unloaded five runs in the first inning and survived a return five-run blast in the sixth, whipping the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night 10-8.

The game produced six home runs and was played before 14,634 in Memorial Coliseum.

The loss dropped the Dodgers into sixth place, a half-game behind the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cub lead dwindled to 7-6 but they scored three runs on four hits in the eighth to cinch the win.

The Dodgers threatened in the ninth on Jim Gilliam's two-run homer but couldn't catch up.

Dodger starter Don Drysdale was the loser, giving up seven runs on nine hits in 4 1-3 innings. He is now 4-6.

Rosburg, Hogan Set Early Pace In Memphis Golf

MEMPHIS, (AP)—PGA Champion Bob Rosburg blasted into the lead in the $30,000 Memphis Invitational Open Thursday with Bantam Ben Hogan hard on his heels.

Rosburg, a punchy 33-year-old playing out of Overland Park, Kan., fired a slick five-under par 32-33—65 over the soggy course. Hogan, the 47-year-old Fort Worth flash, came in with a 34-32—66.

A night of rain made the course contrary early in the day. The afternoon was hot and humid.

Rosburg's deft touch with irons and putter gave him an edge over the powerhouse golfers.

TWO STROKES back of Rosburg were defending champion Don Whitt from Borrego Springs, Calif., with 32-35—67; former National Open champion Jack Fleck of Los Angeles with 33-34—67; Don January of Dallas with 33-34—67; and J. C. Goosie of Knoxville, Tenn., 32-35—67.

Rosburg rang up six birdies over the 6,500-yard, 34-36—70 Colonial country club course but fell off a stroke with a bogey on the par four 14th.

The soggy fairways trapped many an early starter. Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., who was low pro in Wednesdays Pro-Am with a 64, slipped to a 38-36—74 in this first round of tournament play.

Phils Ink Schoolboy Shortstop Phenom

PHILADELPHIA, (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies announced they had signed Richard Allen, a shortstop of Wampum to a Williamsport contract Thursday night following his graduation from Wampum high school.

Allen was a member of the Wampum class B champion basketball team in the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic association. Phil scout John Ogden described him as the greatest prospect he had ever seen.

While Allen was signed to the class A Eastern league Williamsport club he was assigned to the Elmira, N. Y., club of the class D New York-Pennsylvania league and will report there Friday night, the Phillies said.

PALE HOSE HAD EDGE

The Chicago White Sox had a 13-9 edge over the Yankees in 1959. Billy Pierce won four times and Bob Shaw and Early Wynn three times each.

Nats Tumble Bosox Back Into Cellar With 8-3, 8-7 Sweep of Double Bill

'LOUSY BALL CLUB BUT'—In one of his rare interviews, Thomas Yawkey (center), owner of the Boston Red Sox, tells reporters that "we've got a lousy ball club" but expressed faith in manager Bill Jurges. Yawkey rapped Boston writers, chiding some of them about their qualification to manage a ball club. At left is Bucky Harris, the club GM.

BOSTON (AP) — Faye Throneberry, a former Boston outfielder, tripled home Washington's winning run for an 8-7 triumph in the 10th inning and doubleheader sweep over the Red Sox Thursday, lifting the Senators out of eighth place.

Washington took the opener of this battle of the American League basement 8-3 with the aid of another ex-Red Sox—relief pitcher Truman Clevenger.

Throneberry's triple to the right field corner brought in Jose Valdivielso who had singled. The blow settled the marathon contest in which 39 players were used.

The two games consumed 6¾ hours.

The long ball was Washington's winning weapon.

Billy Gardner, whose solo homer touched off a decisive four-run first inning in the opener, tagged the first grand slam of his major league career in the nightcap. They were his only homers of the season.

Harmon Killebrew hit his third, a two-run blast, in the fifth and his sacrifice fly in the ninth forced the contest into extra play.

Jim Lemon (No. 11) and Bob Allison (No. 4) also tagged solo homers in the first game.

Havens Out for 2d Hatfield Crown

Dick Havens, who lead-footed his way to Hatfield Speedway's racing crown last year, has again tossed his hat into the ring.

After an inauspicious start several weeks ago, Havens looked like his old self two weeks ago when he was running high, wide and handsome in one of the preliminary heats.

For the third straight week, rain washed out the balance of the program so Havens, the gentleman farmer from New Hope, never got a chance to unwind in the feature.

Director George Marshman has rescheduled the stock cars for this Saturday, 8 p. m.

Havens, who divides his time farming and driving a school bus, won the All-Star Racing club championship in 1959 with a record of consistency.

St. Gabriel's unleashed a 14-hit attack on hapless Transfiguration Thursday night, and pounded out an 11-1 Church league victory at Memorial park.

Lou Wilkinson and Sam DiGiosia each clubbed three-baggers in the game, which was called midway through the sixth because of darkness.

DiGiosia led the hit parade with three, scored three runs in an identical number to back up Dick Beidler's one-hit pitching. Beidler, who collected his first victory, fanned eight.

Lefty Peterson started on the hill for the Church league coal-bin dwellers, was clubbed for 10 hits and seven runs and driven from the mound after four innings.

Doug Moser, who worked the final inning, had little better success, allowing four hits and four runs. He walked one and struck out one.

Shoddy fielding also played a part in the Transfiguration loss, as four errors and three passed balls added to the confusion.

Florida Miss Wins British Amateur Title

HARLECH, Wales (AP) — Barbara McIntire halted a fighting rally by Ireland's Philomena Garvey Thursday for a 4 and 2 victory which added the British Women's Amateur golf championship to her U.S. title.

The British-American double established the 25-year-old real estate operator from Lake Park, Fla., as the World's supreme woman amateur golfer. It put her in a class with Louise Suggs and the late Babe Didrikson Zaharias.

The 36-hole final over the Royal St. David's course started as a rout for the American and then took a sudden and dramatic shift as the 38-year-old Irish campaigner launched a comeback.

Eight down with nine holes to play, Miss Garvey won five of the next six holes—four straight starting at the 28th. During this stretch she had six straight one-putt greens and four birdies.

Spring City Legion Opens Season Today, Steelers, Bears Work Out

The Spring City Legion team will kick the lid off the season this evening, when it pays a call at Doylestown.

Meanwhile, other teams, including Pottstown's Steelers and Boyertown, will hold their final workouts at their respective home parks today.

The Spring City group will leave the Junior High school in Royersford at 5 o'clock for its game. Boyertown, preparing for its Berks league opener Saturday, will work out at Gabelsville at 6 o'clock.

The Steelers will practice at Enterprise field, also at 6 o'clock, but their proposed game Saturday against Perkasie of the Bux-Mont league has run aground.

Due to a tie in the Bux-Mont scholastic conference, Perkasie won't be able to field a team for a Saturday game.

The Steelers meanwhile, will face Norristown's Melnick Esso Sunday afternoon, the first game to be played at the new park.

Both the Steeler and Bear players will receive uniforms at this afternoon's workouts. Both are still seeking players.

Connie Mack Practice Canceled for Today

The practice scheduled for the USWA 2326-Post 47 Connie Mack team this evening has been canceled. The team will work out tomorrow morning at Enterprise field at 10 o'clock, and play a practice game with Frosty's at 5:30 the same day.

Birds Shade Yanks, 6-5 To Sweep 3-Game Series

BALTIMORE (AP) — Home runs by Jim Gentile, Brooks Robinson and Gene Woodling powered the league-leading Baltimore Orioles to a 6-5 victory Thursday night a sweep of their three-game series with the New York Yankees.

Woodling's lead-off blast before 42,755 in the eighth inning snapped a 5-5 tie, boosted relief pitcher Chuck Estrada to his fifth victory in six verdicts and marked the 11th Oriole triumph in the last 13 games.

Art Ditmar, following starter Jim Coates and Bobby Shantz to the mound for New York, gave up the blow as he suffered his third defeat against two victories.

Gentile's three-run homer well beyond the 390-foot sign on the right-centerfield fence in the sixth inning chased Coates.

Until Gentile unloaded his fifth homer, the Yankees had a 4-2 lead on Bill Skowron's first inning home run, a run-scoring double by Skowron in the fourth and Roger Maris' two-run homer in the sixth.

Robinson's home run after Jack Brandt singled tied it up at 2-2 in the fifth.

Hoyt Wilhelm, the veteran knuckleballer, started for Baltimore but lasted only into the sixth inning, when Skowron followed Maris' homer with his third straight hit.

C & K's softballers used a pair of big innings and Herb Beekley's six-hit pitching to hand the winless Whiz Kids their third City league setback, 7-2 Thursday night at Memorial park.

C & K moved back into a first-place deadlock with Sunset Pharmacy as a result of the victory. Each has won four without a loss.

Joe Karpinski's bases-loaded single was the big blow of the first inning, when C & K pushed across three runs on three hits and a pair of walks.

In the fifth, when the Servicemen scored four insurance tallies, Karpinski and Squeak Marquette each delivered singles after three walks had loaded the bases.

The winners collected eight hits off loser Bob Graham, but seven free tickets also contributed to the winners' big uprisings.

Optimists Blank Kenilworth, 7-0 In Knee-Hi Tilt

The Pottstown Optimist-backed up Denny Kumitis' three-hit shutout pitching with explosions of four and three runs in a 7-0 Knee-Hi league win over Kenilworth at Memorial park Thursday.

Kumitis fanned 15 batters and issued two free tickets, while aiding his own cause with two hits in four trips. He also drove in one run.

George Rantz, who went the route for Kenilworth, took the loss. He was tagged for 12 hits over the route. He also walked two and struck out eight.

Each pitcher was charged with a hit batsman.

MAXWELL'S HR LEADS TIGERS PAST CHISOX

HR Snaps 3-3 Deadlock Gives Detroit 4-3 Win

DETROIT (AP) — Charlie Maxwell's second home run of the game in the eighth inning broke a 3-3 tie and gave the Detroit Tigers a 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox Thursday night. The victory snapped a five-game losing streak for the Tigers.

Ray Semproch, who relieved starter Don Mossi in the eighth, retired four of the last five Sox batters for his second victory without a loss.

Maxwell hit his first homer and fifth of the season in the first inning with no one on and then drove in another run in the third with a double to rightfield.

Mossi gave up 12 hits, including 11 singles, in the 7 2-3 innings he worked. He was helped out by two double plays when the White Sox clustered three singles in both the sixth and eighth but scored only one run.

Dick Donovan started for Chicago but was relieved by Russ Kemmerer in the fifth. It marked the seventh straight time the Chicago right-hander has failed to finish a game which he started.

Detroit jumped into an early lead as Maxwell hit a solo homer in the first frame and tallied a pair in the third on Frank Bolling's single and back-to-back doubles by Maxwell and Steve Bilko.

The White Sox kept pecking away with single runs in the fourth and sixth innings.

Giant Young Pittsburgh Hurler Catches 13 Eyes

By JOE BRADIS

PITTSBURGH, (AP)—How does a 17-year-oid boy feel with 13 major league scouts beating a path to his doorstep.

"It's great," chuckled Sam McDowell a 6-4 southpaw pitcher in an interview Thursday at his home.

"I've wanted to pitch for a major league team ever since I was eight years old," he said with a twinkle in his eyes.

Sam graduates Sunday from Central Catholic high school and the scouts promise to be on hand that day.

THEY'VE BEEN bird-dogging Sam for the past couple of years, but baseball rules prohibit signing a player while he's still in high school.

Sam caught the eye of the scouts in the Colt league World series last year at Los Angeles.

He pitched three games—a one hitter and a pair of no hitters. So far in his short career he's pitched 40 no-hitters.

In eight games this year, the fireballing lefthander allowed only eight hits, three runs, struck out 123 and gave up 18 base on balls. He won 7 and lost none.

BEFORE A crucial, scrutinizing audience of 13 scouts on May 19, Sam pitched a four-hitter, fanned 18 and stroked a game-winning ninth inning home run to beat South Hills Catholic 4-3.

McDowell's scoreless streak ended in the fourth at 50 innings. A walk, some shabby fielding and two solid hits led to three un-earned runs — the first scored off him this year.

He made his sandlot debut Wednesday night and hurled the Beechview Legion team to a 4-0 win in a City-County league game. He struck out 13 and gave up only a soft single in six innings.

But Sam, one of six children of former Pitt quarterback Tommy McDowell, has no illusions he's ripe for the majors. He received his awakening last Summer pitching batting practice for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

* * *

"I COULDN'T get the ball past those guys, especially Ted Kluszewski," he admitted understandably.

"I'd like to pitch in the minors for a couple of years to see what I can do. Then I'd like a crack at the majors if I do well."

With graduation only three days away, Sam still hasn't made up his mind with what team he may sign.

"All the scouts have talked to my parents," he said. "I really don't know. This much I'll tell you — my idols are Warren Spahn and Harvey Haddix."

EARLY TRIBE HOMERS EDGE KAYCEE, 7-6

Five-Game A's Streak Snapped in Close Defeat

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Cleveland Indians laid down an early inning home run barrage but barely staggered home a 7-6 winner Thursday night after the Kansas City Athletics staged a four-run ninth inning rally that reliever Dick Stigman finally snuffed out.

The long ball attack broke a five-game winning streak for the Athletics as Woody Held, Tito Francona and Johnny Romano homered for the Indians.

Marv Throneberry hit a two-run homer for the Athletics in the fourth inning and ignited the ninth inning uprising with a single off Mudcat Grant, the Indians starter and winner.

By winning, the second-place Indians stayed 2½ games behind the Baltimore Orioles who also won from the New York Yankees.

Grant walked Ken Hamlin after Throneberry's single. Danny Kravitz flied out but Bill Tuttle singled in Throneberry. After Jerry Lumpe flied out Andy Carey doubled and brought in Hamlin and Tuttle. That was all for Grant.

Grant is now 3-1.

Cunningham Homer in 8th Nets Cards 4-3 Victory

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe Cunningham's first home run of the season broke a 3-all tie Thursday and gave Larry Jackson and the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants, who fell two games behind Pittsburgh in the National League race.

It was Jackson's sixth victory in 11 decisions and his fifth in a row. Lindy McDaniel closed out the win, retiring three straight batters after Jackson walked pinch hitter Jim Marshall to start the ninth.

Cunningham's 380-foot smash over the right field fence came in the seventh inning. It made southpaw Billy O'Dell a loser for the fifth time.

Temperatures in the 90s sent between 20 and 30 of the crowd of 10,584 to the first aid station with heat prostration. The crowd was the smallest yet in Candlestick Park.

Jackson gave up 11 hits, walked 2 and struck out 3.

O'Dell was tagged for 9 hits, struck out 9 and walked 2.

The Cards also got a homer from Ken Boyer, who boosted his league-leading total to 14.

San Francisco tallied in the first as Orlando Cepeda singled home Willie Mays. The second Giant run came on Willie McCovey's 10th homer, a 370-foot poke over the right field fence.

By BENNETT CERF

HERMIONE GINGOLD, reports Joe Hyams, thinks American visitors to London spend too much time mastering the intricacies of British currency. "Don't bother about it," she advises. "Either buy nothing that costs less than a pound, or be gracious and let the other fellow pick up the check."

"One of the great thrills London affords," she continues, "is the opportunity to get into a taxicab without lying down, and to get out without ripping half your clothing. And the lovely keepsakes an American can find to bring home to his loved ones: Popular are sports cars, jet planes, atomic reactors, and angry young men. Take your pick!"

The student body at a New England prep school, sick and tired of the frugal fare served them, sent this poignant note to the headmaster: "Mary had a little lamb. We wish we had, too."

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

9 Year Old Boy Found Alive Near Plane Wreckage

FLIN FLON, Man. (AP)—A 9-year-old boy was found alive Thursday near the wreckage of a plane that apparently carried his father and another man to their deaths 15 days ago.

Walter Sedor was spotted by bush pilot Harvey Evans about three-quarters of a mile from Tartan Lake, 12 miles from Flin Flon.

Ken Harrison, 32, Steve Sedor, 39, and Walter had left Flin Flon May 18 for a fishing trip to Tartan Lake.

Evans spotted the boy sitting on a rock near the wreckage. The Canadian air force was notified and a helicopter picked up the youngster and took him to a Flin Flon hospital. His condition is described as reasonably good.

Air force spokesmen here said the youngster was thin and weak, and apparently too exhausted to speak. It was not known how he obtained food during his 15-day vigil.

Police said a "trace" of a body had been found inside the wreckage of the burned aircraft. The air force helicopter which brought the boy out was to return to search for the two adults.

The crash scene is inaccessible except by helicopter.

The light plane burned after crashing.

Since the plane disappeared the air force and civilian aircraft had combed the area about 400 miles northwest of Winnipeg.

DANGEROUS GREETING

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Fritz is what you might call an over-alert police dog.

Holcomb's dog Fritz, a member of the corps, sank his teeth into Hill's right thigh.

HELD IN DEATH PLOT—Chester A. Burge faces a murder charge in Macon, Ga., in connection with the strangling of his wife. Detective Chief W. L. Bargeron accused the real estate investor of slipping from the hospital, where he was a patient, and going to his palatial home at the time Mrs. Mary Burge was slain. Burge denies any part in the crime.

5000 RIOT IN WESTERN POLISH CITY

Women Stand Guard At Threatened Church

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Forty policemen and 30 civilians were reported injured in antigovernment riots Monday in the western Polish city of Zielona Gora.

The violence was reported touched off when local government officials tried to take over part of a state-owned building being used by the Roman Catholic Church.

About 5,000 persons were believed to have taken part in an all-day street battle that resembled religious riots in the southern Polish steel town of Nowa Huta five weeks ago.

* * *

Informed sources in Warsaw said the Zielona Gora Communist party newspaper, Gazeta Zielonogorska, published Thursday a report of the riots and events leading up to them.

Informed sources in Warsaw gave this account of what followed:

A local priest Sunday informed his parishioners of the government's decision to take over part of the building and declared the Church's right must be respected.

When local officials arrived to take possession, they were met by women demonstrators who drove them off.

The women stood guard until quitting time at the local factories when they were joined by workers.

The swelling crowd advanced on a small force of local police who retreated to a police station where the crowd surrounded them. Some of the rioters stoned the building while others set fire to two police cars.

Riot police from nearby Poznan relieved the beleaguered local police and battled the angry mobs with tear gas bombs and clubs. About 100 persons were reported arrested.

EARLY MEETERS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Miami News was sure someone had hit the wrong typewriter key when it received an announcement from Meridian Daylight Masonic Lodge that its next meeting would be on such-and-such a date at 4 a. m.

But there was no error. Meridian's members work at night and can't attend meetings at conventional hours.

Analysts Feel That Market Is Poised for Summer Advance

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Some financial analysts feel that the stock market is poised for a summer advance.

Schroeder Boulton of Goodbody & Co. calls attention to the history of advances in presidential election years since 1900.

Rating the market at the start of each election year as 100, there has been an average rise from a June low of about 98 to about 108 at the year's end.

There have been exceptions, Boulton pointed out, but the combination of a summer period and the election year has in most cases meant a strengthening market.

"With general business developing about as expected, the market is giving signs of following the expected pattern," he said.

"At present it may be completing the development of a base, to be followed by a summer rise in the averages rather than in a few lonely groups of growth stocks."

Looking farther ahead, Boulton said that, "In spite of uncertainties about inventory policies, an upward trend in gross national product appears likely to continue this year.

* * *

"Should inventories actually be pulled down substantially, such a reduction could supply another reason why the widely heralded recession of 1961 may not measure up to expectations, if it comes at all."

* * *

L. O. Hooper of W.E. Hutton & Co. reported his contacts with investors recently have indicated more buying interest.

"June often has been a good month to buy stocks for a summer rise," he said. "We think the case for a better market this summer is improving. In a few weeks we may begin to anticipate better business conditions in the late summer or fall."

* * *

A. M. Kidder & Co. has analyzed the outlook for steel, copper and auto shares. Here are the firm's conclusions:

While some observers seem to look for a further steel production decline to 55 per cent of capacity or less, it is possible that investors who delay purchases until such a time will miss their market. Any further bad news about the steels can be absorbed above last month's lows.

Further selling of coppers seems based on the possibility that the decline in the world market price of the metal will force reductions in the domestic price. If a domestic price reduction should prove fairly severe, some of the generous dividends now being paid may be placed in jeopardy.

Motor shares seem to be discounting a poor third quarter due to the need for liquidating excessive inventories. This probably won't make a seriously adverse impression on second-quarter results but the market seems to be taking a somewhat longer view.

Stock Is Converted

Conversion of 1½ million dollars of convertible subordinated notes into common stock has been completed, Kawecki Chemical company, Boyertown, announced Thursday.

The final $349,000 of outstanding notes were converted, the company said. Since last December a total of 59,406 shares of common have been issued in exchange for the notes, it added.

The notes were issued for cash in June 1958.
